

GOVERNORS SPLIT ON DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT

LOTS OF LOCAL TALENT, MOTION PICTURE STARS
TO APPEAR ON PROGRAMTuesday Afternoon Club Donates Auditorium
For Event to Add to Subscriptions for Families Of Men Burned to Death

Tentative date for the big benefit entertainment to be given for the families of Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan, who were burned to death while fighting flames in the San Rafael hills east of Glendale last Saturday, was today fixed as Monday, October 29. On that night, in the auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon club, will be staged a mammoth program, it is announced, and for which an admission charge of $1 will be made.

The auditorium is donated by the club—and the club has already subscribed close to $200 to the relief fund being gathered by The Glendale Evening News.

Plenty of local talent will appear on the program it is assured, and from Hollywood will come motion picture stars, it is announced.

So, it's going to be a big night and, it is expected, the demand for tickets will be great. Aside from the very worthy cause, real value in the way of entertainment will be provided.

The committee representing the Chamber of Commerce to work with the general committee to be appointed for the entertainment consists of Daniel Campbell, chairman; Herman Nelson, A. T. Cowan, Chalmers Day and A. G. Spahr. This committee will hold a meeting tonight.

Glendale Music Club
Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the Glendale Music club, which has about 600 members, is heartily in favor of a benefit entertainment for the families of the victims of the fire.

"I notice that in a certain account of the proposed entertainment absolutely no mention is made of the Glendale Music club as being one of the organizations willing to assist," said Mrs. Jones this morning. "I do not want any impression through the reading of that article, to go out that our organization, with its 600 members, is not willing to assist to the full in the entertainment. We are for it heart and soul."

"Those who know the history of the Glendale Music club know, too, that it always lends itself to worthy causes, that it works for a greater Glendale, that it seeks to further the musical interests of the community, that it never hesitates to do its full share of civic work. So, of course, the Glendale Music club is glad to contribute talent to the entertainment."

Exchange Club Active
The members of the Glendale Exchange club at their luncheon meeting yesterday noon in Jensen's Egyptian Village, 133 North Brand boulevard, indicated they were heartily in favor of the relief fund being raised for the fire victims, and would do their part toward assuring success for the entertainment being sponsored by Dr. H. R. Harrower addressed his fellow members with the request that the club give him a letter urging all Glendale luncheon clubs to get together on this project, stating that it was his privilege to address the local Rotary club this morning, and that he would be an excellent opportunity to reach such a letter from the one club to the other.

The Exchange club unanimously authorized that such a letter be prepared.

Mrs. Pauline Dose, past chief of the Glendale Pythian Sisters, says: "As past chief of the Pythian Sisters, let me say we are heartily supporting the relief fund, and at our meeting Friday night we will take definite action in the matter."

One of the most loyal workers for the relief fund is Miss Eva Daniels, publicity chairman of the Tuesday Afternoon club, active member of the Parent-Teacher association, and prominent in affairs of the Jewish Sisterhood.

"I am most happy to work towards swelling the relief fund," says Miss Daniels, "and at present am busy raising a contribution from the Jewish Sisterhood. It will be ready for announcement Saturday."

College Women's Club
The directors of the Glendale College Women's club pledged $10 to the relief fund, and this morning Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, club president, announced:

"The club is heartily supporting the plans for the benefit to be given next week."

Mrs. Evelyn S. Labadie, head of the Emerson School of Self-expression, states that she and her co-workers and students will do all in their power to swell the relief fund.

Contributions to the fund being raised for the families of Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan, who lost their lives fighting fire in the San Rafael hills east of Glendale last Saturday, continue to pour into the office of The Glendale Evening News, 139 South Brand boulevard.

Big-hearted people of Glendale are responding generously to the families of the two men who were burned alive while defending the property of others.

The Glendale Evening News is receiving contributions at its counters and through the mails. Banks of the city are also authorized to take contributions to the fund.

Committee Named
The committee to administer the fund is composed of Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club; Spencer Robinson, mayor of the city of Glendale; Chalmers Day, commander Glendale post, American Legion; W. S. Ingram, of The Glendale Evening News. The subscriptions received will be turned over to this committee to administer.

'Oh, Mr. Collins?'
'Yes, Mr. Brice!'
'Give Me a Ride'

How far does a motor officer have to trail a speeding car before it is legal to arrest the driver?

Elmo Brice, the alleged speeder, declares one block is not sufficient.

Motor Officer Merle Collins asserts this has no bearing on the matter.

This fine point in law was discussed by these gentlemen Wednesday night when the officer arrested Brice and charged him with driving at the rate of thirty-five miles per hour in a twenty-mile limit.

Brice explained the law, but Collins would not become interested. He made out the summons and proffered it to Brice for his signature. Brice refused to sign.

The officer's only alternative was to take his prisoner to the station, but matters became extremely complicated when that individual became belligerent. The difficulty was not adjusted until the patrol wagon was called. At the station Brice finally agreed to sign the summons and appear before the court, after it was explained that it would in no way endanger a fair trial.

POLISH HERO TO VISIT GLENDALEGen. Josef Haller to Be Guest of Legion Post During Southland Tour

General Josef Haller, commander-in-chief of the Polish army, who bears the same relation as hero of his country that Marshal Joffre does to France, will pass through Glendale shortly before noon, Sunday morning, October 21, on his way to the home of S. Z. Walter, Flintridge, where he will be entertained at dinner, reports John Roman of this city, chairman of the Polish entertainment committee organized to welcome this international figure.

General Haller is now in San Francisco, attending the American Legion convention. He will arrive in Los Angeles Friday night, October 19, at 8:30 o'clock. During his visit he will be entertained by the Glendale post, No. 127, American Legion, with James F. McBryde in charge of hospitality, and Albert D. Pearce, attorney for the Polish colony, will take part in the entertainment provided.

It was General Haller who, after the war, drove the invading bolshevik army from Polish soil.

Athletic Club Dance
To Aid Relief Fund

An expression of active interest in the relief fund for the families of Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan, who were burned to death while fighting fire in the hills Saturday, comes from the Glendale Athletic club, which is to give a benefit dance Saturday night at the hall at 109 North Brand boulevard. Ed. Hahn has donated the hall, and Lester Marston of the Lunch Box on West Broadway, is general chairman.

The entire proceeds will go to the mother of Clarence Edwards and the family of J. W. McGahan. Tickets will be on sale Saturday at the entrance to the hall at 109 North Brand boulevard, and at other places to be announced tomorrow.

The Glendale Athletic club is taking an active interest in the relief work. At the boxing show held last Tuesday night the fans tossed a total of $96.18 into the ring to be added to The Glendale Evening News' fund for the families of the two men.

Reorganized Cabinet
Ends Siege in Greece

ATHENS, Oct. 18.—The re-organized Greek cabinet under Premier Gonatas begun to function today. The state of siege, which has been prevailing since the revolution, was abolished.

A decree was issued restoring the liberty of the press.

December 2 has been fixed for the general election.

M. Boussios, former Greek minister to Washington, was appointed minister of interior; M. Sach-touris, foreign minister; General Katakakis, minister of war, and M. Stratigopolis, minister of justice.

By JACK CARBERRY

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The trump card of W. E. D. Stokes, 73-year-old millionaire, was played today in his suit to divorce his beautiful young wife, Helen Elwood Stokes.

Horace G. Knowles, former United States minister to Roumania, Bolivia and Peru, swore that "to the best of his knowledge and belief," he saw the titan-haired defendant in Wallace's Fifth avenue apartment.

Fourteen other witnesses, mostly negro cooks and servant maids, had testified they had seen Mrs. Stokes in the alleged "love flat" but their testimony had been greatly shaken by Samuel Untermyer, fiery counsel for Mrs. Stokes.

Visited 'Love Flat'
Knowles, a former Delaware attorney, who was in the diplomatic service fifteen years, said he had been invited to the Wallace apartment in 1914. He was calling on a friend, a Dr. Benson, who lived at the apartment, he testified.

"I believe I saw Mrs. Stokes there, to the best of my knowledge and belief," Knowles testified.

Knowles now represents the de facto government of San Domingo, he said. During 1914 and 1915 he lived at the National Republican club in New York.

Attorney Confused
Untermyer appeared a bit stunned when he started to cross-examine Knowles—the surprise witness.

Mrs. Stokes' face was flushed and she was apparently nervous. Her aged husband for the first time since the opening of the trial, had a smile on his face.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Oct. 18.—Almost totally exhausted after being tossed around in the Gulf of Mexico for hours, the captain and three members of the crew of the schooner Bluefields today staggered into Pensacola with a story of death and destruction. Four members of the crew were drowned and their vessel completely destroyed by the storm which has been sweeping the Gulf of Mexico for several days, they said.

EDISON COMPANY CUTS RATES IN SO. CALIF.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—By a decision of the state railroad commission made public today householders in Southern California, served by the Southern California Edison company, will pay less in the future for lighting than any time heretofore. The new rates are made effective for meter readings on November 15.

$35,000 FUR ROBBERY IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Mrs. L. D. Fought reported to the police today that furs valued at $35,000 had been stolen from her apartment during a trip to Cloverdale. She discovered the theft upon her return this morning. They were insured, she said, for $25,000.

SCHOOL TEACHER DIES IN AUTO-TRAIN CRASH

PUEBLO, Colo., Oct. 18.—Margaret May Chambers, 27, school teacher at La Junta, was instantly killed and three other women and a 17-year-old boy were seriously injured today when an automobile driven by the boy was struck by a light engine at a Missouri-Pacific railroad crossing east of here.

GERMANY MAKES NEW REPARATIONS OFFER

BRUSSELS, Oct. 18.—Germany made new reparations proposals to Belgium today offering to pay 80,000,000 gold marks annually and to give the allies a participating share in German industry. The offer was contained in a long note dealing with the Belgian reparations plan of June 6.

GUN PLAY FEARED IN OKLAHOMA LEGISLATURE

STATE CAPITOL, OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 18.—Dr. A. E. Davenport, state health commissioner, was disarmed and placed in custody of a house of representatives probing committee guard today when he was alleged to be making threats against the life of a witness who was said to have testified against him. The health department is under the committee's probe.

GERMANYThree-Party Fight Looms

Grave Developments

By S. D. WEYER

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—Ominous clouds gathered low over Germany today pointing the way to grave developments in the immediate future. Pessimism has been deepened by the summary rejection of the government's proposals by France and Belgium. It is feared that the blunt action of the French and Belgians will delay a settlement of the Ruhr reparations issue.

Grave disorders were reported from various quarters. Red terror grips Saxony and reinforcements of Reichswehr have been moved into that state.

A mob of men and women attempted to storm the police headquarters at Gelsenkirchen. Police fired upon the attackers, wounding three of them.

Armed Clash Feared
Fighting, which may grow to actual civil war, is feared. Bavaria, angered by threats of Saxons, is threatening armed action. If a clash takes place, the fight would be three-cornered, involving communists, the forces supporting the Berlin central government and the Bavarian monarchists.

Fresh troubles have broken out at Mannheim and Baden, where two or possibly three persons were killed yesterday, and nearly a score wounded. Communists began rioting at Heide, in Northern Germany. In Gelsenkirchen, occupied Germany, communists attacked police.

Rush Reinforcements
Twenty-eight battalions of Reichswehr brought from Prussian garrisons have been sent to Dresden to reinforce the fifteen battalions commanded by General Mueller. Decision to send the reinforcements was taken after Premier Zeigner defied General Miller's ultimatum to disband the armed proletariat (red) guards.

ASS'N PLANS FOR WIDER BOULEVARDSan Fernando Road Will Be Improved to Care for Traffic Increase

"Now on the right track."

That is the position of the South Glendale Improvement association in the matter of the widening of the San Fernando road, those giving their active attention to the project declared following an enthusiastic meeting Wednesday night at Cerritos school.

Hugh Pomeroy, secretary of the county planning commission, addressed the meeting, as a result of an invitation having been extended the commission to have a representative present. He declared that the San Fernando road will always be an important thoroughfare, regardless of how many more roads are constructed, due to the increase in traffic.

Members of the improvement association were greatly pleased with Mr. Pomeroy's attitude. City Manager W. H. Reeves spoke briefly, heartily endorsing the movement.

Plan Conference

Mrs. May P. Moberly, of 1011 South San Fernando road, is chairman of a committee, named by the improvement association, to investigate the feasibility of widening the road. This committee is planning to meet with City Manager Reeves at his office Friday afternoon, if an appointment agreeable to all can be arranged for further discussions.

It is proposed to make the boulevard 100 feet wide, from the city limits on the Burbank side to the city limits on the south side of town. Property owners are virtually unanimous in their willingness to donate the necessary ground, it is said. Those working on the proposition hope to secure a liberal appropriation for aid through the county planning commission, following which the City Council will be asked to create an improvement district.

Klan In ConventionCalifornia Delegate Starts Uproar When He Launches Specific Attack On Hooded Organization

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Declaring that the time had come to "stop pussy-footing," Charles W. Kendrick of California plunged the fifth annual American Legion into an uproar this afternoon when he presented an amendment to a resolution reported by the resolutions committee specifically denouncing the Ku Klux Klan.

The committee resolution did not name the Klan, but denounced "un-American" organizations. This resolution, at the motion of Thomas W. Miller, chairman of the resolutions committee, was taken up separately and Kendrick immediately demanded recognition.

The California delegation failed to support Kendrick, voting 34 to 1 against the amendment, which was overwhelmingly defeated, after which the original resolution which did not name the Klan specifically was taken up.

The vote on the Kendrick amendment was 142 yes, 815 no, and 36 absent.

After defeating amendments offered both by opponents and proponents of the Klan, the convention this afternoon passed overwhelmingly a resolution reported by the resolutions committee which denounced "un-American" organizations but did not name the Klan.

After voting down both amendments the convention passed the committee resolution as reported.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—A report of the resolutions committee assailing "un-American organizations," believed to be aimed at the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, although not specifically naming the Klan, was expected to throw the fifth annual convention of the American Legion into a tumult today when it was presented.

The report scathingly denounced any organization formed in defiance of the country's constitution, which guarantees "equal rights to all, regardless of race, creed or color."

Adoption Expected
Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian and chairman of the all-powerful resolutions committee, appeared confident when he read the resolutions to the convention that they would be adopted with few dissenting voices.

Important resolutions in the list are:

1. Condemnation of all organizations fostered by racial and religious hatreds.
2. Refusal to endorse American entry into the International Court of Justice.
3. Approval of the French occupation of the Ruhr.
4. Recommendation for a legion commission to investigate methods of bringing about (Continued on page 4)

GOMPERS SPEAKS

Program Presented by Committee

By COPELAND C. BURG

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The American Legion was today pledged the united support of labor in obtaining passage of an adjusted compensation bill by the coming congress.

Addressing the fifth annual convention of the legion, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, told the legionnaires that the bonus was "a debt owed the fighting boys which must be paid," and added that the bill should be passed by the next congress without further delay.

Gompers praised the "happy relations" existing between the legion and the federation and declared that the federation stood back of the legion's program of Americanism.

Americanism Program

The report of the committee on Americanism was presented today and urged the following program:

Universal physical education for school children.

Teaching in the public schools the meaning of the sacrifice of life for one's country.

Reiteration of demand of exclusion of aliens ineligible to citizenship.

Demand that smuggling of immigrants be stopped.

Cessation of all immigration for a period of five years to be followed by a selective system of immigration with raised standards for admission.

Registration of aliens.

Prohibition of child labor under the age of 15 years.

Other Resolutions

The resolutions committee also brought in a resolution urging the government to continue cordial relations with our former allies "to the end that the sacrifices made by our comrades shall not be in vain."

Thomas Hull Weds
Mrs. M. Kealihero

The many friends of Thomas L. Hull of 328 West Colorado street, will be surprised to learn of his marriage to Mrs. May M. Kealihero of Manhattan Beach, the ceremony taking place Wednesday noon, October 17, 1923, at the G. A. R. hall at Redondo Beach. Judge E. W. Miller, commander of Redondo Post, G. A. R., was the officiant.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hull are active members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. and other patriotic circles, and first met as officers in associated organizations of veterans and their wives. Mr. and Mrs. Hull will make their home in Glendale.

White House Session

By KENNETH CLARK
For International News Service

WEST BADEN SPRINGS, Ind., Oct. 18.—Prohibition today split wide open the governors' conference. In spirited discussions, showing aside those listed in the regular schedule for the meeting—taxation and agricultural relief—lines were drawn sharply between the so-called dry and liberal state executives on the liquor law issues.

This subject became the paramount theme of the conference. On all sides, especially in informal gatherings, the national dry act and the "law and order" conference with President Coolidge at the White House Saturday were the leading topics of debate.

Wide confusion existed among the state chiefs on the challenge of Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, charging President Coolidge personally with full responsibility for the enforcement of the dry law.

In characteristic Rooseveltian fashion, the Pennsylvania governor who acted as spokesman for the "bone dry" element, denounced the present system of enforcement and demanded that in order to make America thoroughly arid, the federal administration extend greater and more harmonious co-operation to state agencies in running down bootlegging and suppressing illicit booze traffic.

Parker Rallies Liberals
He lashed verbal rights and lefts at the methods used by the prohibition unit in Washington in issuing withdrawal permits. Thousands of the permits, he said, are being forged, with the result that liquor is being flooded over the country in violation of the laws.

To ask the states to stop this traffic, unless more strenuous efforts are made to wipe out the faking, he declared, "imposes a burden that is stupendous."

Pinchot promised to lay bare this condition to President Coolidge at the White House gathering, with the additional warning that he intended to speak straight from the shoulder.

The more liberal forces rallied (Continued on page 4)

Monologue, Promise of Service Club

Rotarians at their regular weekly luncheon this afternoon gave full endorsement to the plan for the fire hero fund benefit entertainment, October 29 and Francis J. W. Henry was called upon to do his Scotch monologue.

Sunday night the Rotarians will attend Rev. E. E. Ford's church in a body, meeting at the business establishment of V. M. Hollister, corner of Maryland and William avenues at 7:15 o'clock. William Hunter, chairman of a special committee, announced a Halloween party the night of Friday, November 2, at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Dr. Henry R. Harrower proved the piece de resistance with an account of conditions in Germany which will be more fully reported tomorrow. A joint meeting of the Rotary, Kiwanis and Exchange clubs next Thursday noon at the Tuesday Afternoon club-house was announced by President George B. Karr and songs were practiced for the event.

Visitors from other clubs today included: Ad Borden, Charles E. Benson and E. B. Wyman of Los Angeles; Jerome Pendleton, San Diego; Ben Barnard, Mitchell, S. D.; James H. Kindel and Thomas M. Social EventsAll Day Meeting

The all-day meeting of the Nimble Fingers, auxiliary to the Daughters of Veterans, held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Griffin, 633 West Alexander street, proved to be a most enjoyable affair and very well attended.

At noon luncheon was served at the home of Mrs. Gay Morgan, who lives next door to Mrs. Griffin, for forty members and friends of the Nimble Fingers. The long tables were artistically decorated in yellow with bouquets of large yellow chrysanthemums forming the centerpiece. Hostesses assisting Mrs. Griffin and Mrs. Morgan were Mesdames Cora Jones, Dorothy Van Wie and Blanche Gammel.

The afternoon was spent at the Griffin home which had been thoroughly decorated with single and double cosmos in many bright hues. Two comforts were tied and other work completed for the bazaar, which will be held November 27, at the American Legion hall, at 610 East Broadway.

During the afternoon a literary contest was enjoyed, at which Mrs. Clara Hamilton was awarded the prize, and the mystery package was drawn by Mrs. Alma Dutton. Mrs. Dorothy Van Wie favored those present with two solo numbers.

Just before the meeting ad-journal pictures of the group present were taken.

The next meeting of the Nimble
Fingers will be held Wednesday,
October 24, at the home of Mrs.
Susie Peck, 16 East Cypress street. Members are urged to keep this date open.

California Day

Tuesday Afternoon club women of the Literature Section, celebrated "California Day" at the meeting at the clubhouse, with a California program, arranged by native daughters.

Mrs. H. C. Wilcox and Mrs. H.
D. Fortier were hostesses and roll call was answered with mention of "California Beauty Spots."

Opening the program Mrs. E.
W. Gilliland gave a sketch on "California Indians." This was followed by "California Mission"
by Mrs. Lillian J. Empey. "California Memories" by Mrs. H. S.
Garlinghouse, and a group of musical readings, "What the Chimney Sang" (Harte), "Newly Weds" and "The Lilac Tree" by Miss Dorothy Dagley, accompanied by Mrs. Ball.

The next meeting will be held in three weeks.

Reading Circle

Reading Circle members met as usual yesterday at the public library with Mrs. H. V. Henry, chairman, directing the meeting.

Mrs. C. H. Crawford directed the gathering, telling of the salutary work being done by the children's hospital and urging the circle members to contribute.

There was a review on "Parents and Teachers" by Angelo Patri, given by Mrs. Maranville, who also gave another sketch especially for members signed "by one of them."

Quotations were given in response to the roll call.

Following the luncheon hour
P. T. A. presentation extended an invitation to the teachers' reception Friday night. Later Mrs.
Henry continued reading from
"Play and Education" by Lee.

Meet at School

The Wilson Avenue P. T. A. will meet Monday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock in the school auditorium. An unusual program is to be presented under the direction of Mrs. E. B. Wyman, program chairman.

A number of the teachers of Wilson Avenue school are to give brief outlines of their special line of work and what they are hoping to accomplish during the coming school year. All mothers and friends of the school are cordially invited to attend. Mrs. H.
A. Thimm will preside.

Drama Section

Mesdames W. L. Andrews and Malvern Barker are to be hostesses tomorrow at the first meeting of the drama section of the Tuesday Afternoon club at the clubhouse.

The meeting, which will begin at 2 o'clock, will be held in the foyer and Mrs. Max Green, curator, will preside.

All members are urged to be present for the roll call.

Meet On Monday

Mrs. C. A. Brandstater, curator of the Parliamentary Law Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, announces a meeting for 2 o'clock
next Monday afternoon in the tea room of the clubhouse. It will be open to all club members, especially chairmen of committees.

Hear Mrs. Moore

Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the P. T. A. Federation, is to speak tomorrow afternoon at the meeting of the Academy Avenue Parent-Teacher association at the school. There will also be music and refreshments.

Reciprocity Tea

The General Richard Gridley
Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, of which Mrs. C. W. Houston is regent, was well represented Tuesday afternoon at the reciprocity tea given by the southern chapter at the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles. Mrs.
Lynan B. Stookey, state regent, presided over the affair at which 820 daughters were present.

Spanish War Veterans

Hosts to County Council

The members of the Spanish War Veterans, Camp No. 67, and the Women's Auxiliary, No. 36, were joint hosts last night to the County Council of Spanish War Veterans. There were 125 members and friends present last night which proved to be a most enthusiastic and enjoyable affair.

Dr. William C. Mabry, commander, presided over the meeting.
Mrs. Vetter was initiated during the business session and several applications for membership were read.

Following the business meeting, addresses were given by Messrs. Barker, and Sylvester of Pasadena, Phillips and Flannery of Sawtelle, Boone and Jenks of San Pedro, Bradley of Santa Monica, Pike of San Fernando, chief of police Lyter and Card of Pomona, and Young of Glendale,
Mesdames Vetter, West, Patten,
Lane and Sprague of Pasadena.

Miss Marion Hill favored those present with a solo, "Sylvia." Later in the evening refreshments were served and a social hour and dancing were enjoyed.

Home From North

Mrs. Eva Cunningham of 114
North Orange street arrived home last night from Washington and Oregon, where she attended the supreme chapter of P. E. O. and later visited relatives and friends.

The supreme chapter convened in Seattle and there were 435 delegates present from all parts of the United States.

Following this gathering Mrs.
Cunningham visited Victoria, B.
C., and Portland and Salem, Ore.
She will be heartily welcomed tomorrow at the meeting of her chapter, BA, with Mrs. Walter Stamps of 423 West Colorado street.

Lunch will be served at 12 o'clock and in the afternoon
the women will go to the True Love home in Los Angeles, to endow a bed.

Kensington Club

The members of the Kensington club, auxiliary of the W. R.
C., held their regular all-day meeting yesterday at the G. A. R.
hall with twelve members present.

Luncheon was served at noon
by the hostesses, Mesdames Ju-linda Hayes, Nina Richards and Welch.

During the afternoon two comforts were finished and the comfort on which chances were sold was drawn by Mrs. Mary Quick.

P. E. O. Lunch

Members of Chapter AH, P. E.
O., met yesterday at the Harriet Mae tea room for a noon luncheon with Mesdames D. H. Smith,
J. Herbert Smith, F. M. Simon and A. W. Beach as hostesses.

Later they drove to the home of Mrs. D. H. Smith for an afternoon business meeting and program. During the meeting there was study of the Constitution and plans were made for the coming bazaar.

Sale Success

Splendid reports come from the rummage sale being held in the Robinson warehouse on South Central avenue, by the ways and means committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club. Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, who is in charge, states that the response to her plea for "white elephants" was most gratifying, and that the sale has been most popular.

Honor Teachers

Under the direction of Mrs. J.
A. Grant, courtesy chairman of the Glendale Parent-Teacher Association Federation, plans for the reception to the teachers tomorrow night are progressing
most satisfactorily.

All Glendale parents and friends of the schools are invited to attend the affair in the boys' gymnasium of the high school.

Foothill Club

Mrs. G. H. Begg of 1107 North Louise street will be hostess tomorrow afternoon, Friday, October 19, to the members of the Foothill Social club.

Woman Cut In Temple

Mrs. Daisy Balke, 7290 Compton avenue, Los Angeles, sustained a cut in the temple when she was thrown into the windshield of the car in which she and her husband were driving shortly before noon at San Fernando road and Brand boulevard, as a result of their machine being struck in the rear by a car driven by Dr. and Mrs. Wade Morris.

Mrs. Balke's injury may prove serious, physicians state. She was taken to her home.

Witnesses say Mrs. Morris was steering her car and Dr. Morris was shifting the gears. It is also reported the car was going at a high rate of speed, while the Balke car was moving slowly.

THE ATRES

THE GLENDALE
"The Girl Who Came Back" is the feature at the Glendale Theatre today, a colorful, dramatic film adapted from the popular stage play of that name.

In the well-balanced cast are a whole host of capable players, including Miriam Cooper, Gaston Glass, Zazu Pitts, Ethel Shannon,
Kenneth Harlan, Joseph Dowling,
Fred Malatesta and Mary Culver.

Larry Semon in "The Barnyard" is the comedy offering at the Glendale Theatre today, and an unusually good offering at that. Larry picks his families full of thrills and sandwiches them with hearty laughs. The picture is a regular fun-riot.

A Pathe News reel completes the program. Paul Carson at the organ furnishes a splendid musical recital.

Dr. Hoare addressed the association Wednesday, and as the two will alternate from week to week, Dr. Armstrong will deliver the lecture next Wednesday. It is estimated it will require about three months of weekly lectures to cover the subject. The lectures are given free, for the purpose of alleviating bad conditions in the schools.

Mrs. Armstrong and Hoare opened offices in Glendale the first of this month, at 106 East Broadway. They came here from Los Angeles, where they both were members of the faculty of the Los Angeles School of Optometry.

Rev. Cole Will Honor

Rev. Rasmus and Son

First Methodist church members and friends are to honor the pastors, Dr. Henry I. Rasmus and son, Rev. H. I. Rasmus, tomorrow night at an affair at the church. It will be a jubilee at the return of Dr. Rasmus and his son to the Glendale church for another year.

The entertainment program is under the auspices of the men's brotherhood of which C. C. Cunningham is president.

Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church, will give the address of the evening, and members of the Baraca and young men's classes will participate in the program.

COMMENT That's All

Glendale's Sewer Problem
Subscribe To Hero Fund
How Different Our Life
The Editor's Bible

By Gil A. Cowan

There is an element in Glendale that confounds the problem of annexation with that of sewerage—some who believe that Glendale should not build its own sewer, but have Los Angeles do so.

Dear Reader, Los Angeles doesn't want Glendale in its municipality until representation can be afforded this fastest growing community. Los Angeles wants its little sister to be all fitted out when she comes to live in the big house some years from now, perhaps.

Los Angeles needs a new charter, it needs many things before Glendale would be welcomed, for, as the editor of the Hollywood Citizen recently pointed out "it is next to impossible for the small, outlying community to get a square deal" and it expresses "surprise that the people of Palms got one dollar back for every ten dollars they turned into the city treasury."

We boast of Los Angeles, we all love it as we do Glendale, but for the time being it is best we go through that transitory state of development, as a civic entity. Evolution will bring about consolidation satisfactorily, but revolution never will.

That is the position of this newspaper in favoring the passage of a Glendale sewer bond issue to care for our own problem, for it is useless to expect, yes, even suspect, that Los Angeles is longing to attend to our problems when there are so many larger ones confronting the larger city.

Incidentally, there are many things which come to a newspaper that mean a service of love. The hero fire fund, for a concrete example, is a task which The Glendale Evening News has given its time and effort to act as an agency, there having been no precedent in this city.

In matters of information, too, the home town newspaper becomes a bureau. It is a Chamber of Commerce, Community Service, Red Cross, all combined. And it is not looking for personal glory, but simply serving well its purpose of being the reflection and spirit of the community.

And in this connection let it be said that Glendale is mirrored in the response it is making to The Glendale Evening News' appeal for money to aid the bereaved relatives of the two men killed in last Saturday's fire.

The Merchants' association, the Tuesday Afternoon club, the Glendale Athletic club, the score or more other organizations on the list of contributors, as well as individuals, have indicated their desire that this be handled in such a manner.

In the news columns you will read of the administration of the fund, and if you have not subscribed, do so at once.

It is early in the day that this comment is being written. Perhaps you have not breakfasted, but, believe me, the newspaperman is working night and day to furnish you with his daily meal.

The writer took two hours off yesterday to attend the funeral of Comrade Edwards, member of the American Legion. It was a sad occasion which gave time for reflection. We sat in a church, we seldom attend, and heard two ministers speak.

How different their lives from ours, these men who live in contemplation and attend to ministering the sick and sorrowful. We sometimes wonder if there is any spirituality around a newspaper editor, although we know there is. It is camouflaged and hard to find.

On a similar subject, entitled "The Editor's Bible," the St. Louis Star said:

"In summarizing the widespread editorial comment upon Doctor Goodspeed's revision of the Bible, the Literary Digest speaks of 'some of the editors who have taken down their dusty copies of the King James version to read again the Lord's Prayer and the Sermon on the Mount.'"

This is a slander upon the editors of American newspapers. Their Bibles are not dusty. The fact is that almost every day or two, the average newspaper editor wants to quote from the Bible. So he takes his copy down from the shelf, hunts for the desired passage and tries to find it whereupon he quotes from Shakespeare.

"When used thus vigorously, the editor's Bible has no chance to acquire the least suspicion of a layer of dust. The imputation is unworthy of a great magazine which isn't charged a cent for the valuable opinions it quotes every week."

Once a hearing is held and an assessment ordered, a distraint warrant is issued and any property the bootlegger may possess is seized.

More than 800 cases of assessments against bootleggers, involving taxes and penalties amounting to approximately $800,000 have been heard and closed in Collector Goodcell's office during the last year.

Complete destruction of anything must have the aid of the elements.

Big Entertainment for Relief Fund Planned

ment to aid Mrs. Edwards and the McGahan family," says Mrs. Paul Hoffman, president. "At our next meeting we hope to make a contribution to the fund."

Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, president of the Women's Parliamentary Law club, says: "It's a fine thing for Glendale to aid the mother and family of these two men. We are ready to do whatever we can to help."

Glad to Assist

From Mrs. C. W. Houston, regent of the General Richard Gridley chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, comes the statement: "General Richard Gridley chapter is behind every civic movement, and we are lending our support to the aid of Mrs. Edwards and the McGahan family and join with all of Glendale in making the entertainment next week a big success."

Following the resolution of sympathy published yesterday from the Women's auxiliary of the local American Legion post, Mrs. L. T. Rowley, first vice-president, acting president in the absence of Mrs. Margaret Kaeding, pledges hearty co-operation and support to any activity given to augment the relief fund.

Community Service

The Community Service organization, stated R. E. Tucker, this morning, is offering its assistance in making the entertainment a huge success.

"Community Service is glad to do its part in the very worthy cause," said Mr. Tucker. "We will be pleased to do all we can to make the benefit a success. Call on us for anything we can do."

The co-operation of the Glendale Realty Board in the proposed benefit is also assured by Charles B. Guthrie, one of the directors and vice-president of the California Real Estate association, speaking in the absence of President C. D. Thom.

The realtors have contributed $100 to the fund being raised by The Glendale Evening News and, members state, they are more than pleased to have the invitation to assist in the entertainment being planned.

Both Were Masons

Dr. Roy V. Hogue, commander of the Glendale commandery, Knights Templar, gave the support of his organization in the following statement:

"The Masonic order is never given to advertising relief work done. The tragic deaths of Clarence Edwards and J. W. McGahan, in Saturday's fire was keenly felt by the men were Masons. The relief of the mother and the little family is, indeed, a worthy cause, and the Knights Templar and other branches of Masonry have already lent assistance and are ready and willing to do over and above what we are able to do. So worthy is the cause that we feel it is right that we should deprive ourselves to aid in the relief. We are behind any movement to augment the fund being raised."

Willing Workers

Chapman L. P. E. O., with Mrs. H. D. Goss as president, is in hearty sympathy with the relief work, and pledged support to the entertainment to be given next week.

Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, chairman of programs of the Tuesday Afternoon club, and president of Chapter C. J. P. E. O., says: "It is a worthy cause and Chapter C. J. will aid in every way possible."

Mrs. Frank N. Arnold, president of Chapter B. A. P. E. O., pledges the support of that organization. Definite action will be taken at the meeting tomorrow.

Red Cross to Aid

Expressing the fine spirit of helpfulness that has marked every activity of the Glendale Red Cross, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, chairman, stated this morning that the organization is ready to assist in any way the mother of Clarence Edwards and the wife and children of J. W. McGahan.

Mrs. A. W. Beach, president of Chapter A. H. P. E. O., speaking for her organization, heartily endorses the relief for those surviving the two men who lost their lives in Saturday's fire.

Elks Ready to Assist

"Elks are always behind any movement of relief," says James A. Apfel, exalted ruler of the Glendale lodge, "and Glendale Elks are in deep sympathy with the mother of Mr. Edwards and the little family of Mr. McGahan, and we are more than ready to assist in any way we can in making the benefit affair a success and in swelling the fund for relief."

Mrs. Nanno Woods, director of the Community Players and of the Woods' School of Dancing, expresses her heartfelt sympathy to the mother and sister of Clarence Edwards and the family of J. W. McGahan, the men who lost their lives in Saturday's fire. Mrs. Woods stated this morning that Clarence Edwards had been a close friend of the family for the past twelve years. He was the first member to join the Community Players and his absence from their midst will be greatly missed. Mrs. Woods and family heartily endorse The Glendale Evening News Relief Fund to which so many generous Glendaleans are contributing to the call for aid.

Active and hearty support is pledged to the benefit entertainment by Mrs. Evelyn Hall, noble grand of the Carnation Rebekah lodge of Glendale.

Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, secretary of Glen Eyrle Chapter, Eastern Star, in the absence of the worthy and associate matrons, says: "I am in full sympathy with the relief movement and am sure every member of the chapter is, also."

Central Labor Council

Mrs. Loretta Schwitters stated this morning for the Central Labor Council that $10 was raised by the organization for the relief fund, and that this amount will undoubtedly be doubled at the meeting next Wednesday night. "The organization is heartily back of the benefit entertainment," says Mrs. Schwitters.

Another commendation of the relief movement comes from Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, chairman of executive men and women of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Doubt is a positive stimulant to pessimism.

Hear Federal Cases Against Bootleggers

Hearings of cases of proposed assessments of internal revenue taxes and penalties against violators of the national prohibition act, are being held in the office of Collector Rex Goodcell.

These hearings are in line with a recent supreme court decision which held that a bootlegger was entitled to a legal hearing before a distraint warrant issued. The revenue taxes and penalties are civil in nature and are imposed in addition to the criminal fines meted out by the federal courts.

While the criminal fines may run from $50 to $500, the internal revenue taxes and penalties range from $500 to $2500. Under the law a bootlegger may submit an offer in compromise of proposed revenue penalties any time prior to a hearing and ninety per cent of the violators are taking advantage of this phase of the law.

Once a hearing is held and an assessment ordered, a distraint warrant is issued and any property the bootlegger may possess is seized.

More than 800 cases of assessments against bootleggers, involving taxes and penalties amounting to approximately $800,000 have been heard and closed in Collector Goodcell's office during the last year.

Arizona State Officer Held on Two Charges

PHOENIX, Oct. 18.—David E. Johnson, state corporation commissioner, was arraigned yesterday in superior court on two indictments issued by the county grand jury charging misappropriation of funds. One involves the alleged misappropriation of $1,500 by Johnson in 1914, when he was state treasurer and the other $1800 in 1918.

Complete destruction of anything must have the aid of the elements.

Elihu Root Slated For London Embassy

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Apparently authentic advices from Washington that Elihu Root, former secretary of state, probably would be appointed ambassador to England, succeeding George Harvey, caused much surprise here today. It was generally anticipated that the post would go to Solicitor-General James M. Beck, who has proclaimed his friendship for England in many speeches.

The foreign office refused to comment, but it was learned that officials regard Root as a man of great ability.

Oh, what's a degree of double L. D., if you haven't the muscle to back it?

Mathews Quits As Crucible's Chief

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The resignation of Dr. John G. Mathews as president was announced today by the Crucible Steel Company of America. E. C. Collins, formerly assistant to Horace A. Wilkinson, chairman of the board, was selected to succeed Dr. Mathews.

New Hatchet Murder Mystery Clearing Up

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Although members of the sheriff's office today failed to divulge any definite information regarding the latest developments in the recent hatchet murder of Rosario Micchie, wealthy Italian, it was stated that the mystery of the affair is slowly but surely clearing up. Deputy sheriffs Bright and Allen have announced that the office was in possession of several valuable clues as a result of their investigation, but declined to discuss details of the case.

Quinn Favored for Legion Commander

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—California delegates attending the American Legion convention here pledged themselves to work for a bonus campaign and the election of John R. Quinn as national commander, according to a statement of policy of the California department by Commander James F. Collins, following a caucus of the delegation. The California veterans also went on record as being in favor of honest neutrality in all political, industrial and religious problems, and urged a campaign to arouse interest in welfare work for disabled ex-service men.

According to the statement, Quinn is the unanimous choice of the delegation in the race for national commander.

The statement was regarded as forecasting opposition by the California men when the proposed anti-Ku Klux Klan resolution is offered on the floor of the convention.

FRANCE BACKS POINCARÉ

PARIS, Oct. 18.—The cabinet met today with President Millerand presiding and unanimously approved Premier Poincaré's rejection of the suggestions made yesterday by Herr Von Hoesch, German charge d'affaires.

den, declared that "red dictatorship is the only salvation of Germany."
The Saxonian communists want a red Germany. The Bavarians want a monarchy for Bavaria at least if they cannot have it for all Germany. The separatists in the Rhineland are working for a Rhenish republic. French troops in the Palatinate are preparing to meet the situation if Bavaria secedes and proclaims a monarchy.

German Note Replies To Belgian Plan

BRUSSELS, Oct. 18.—Germany has transmitted to the Belgian government a thirty-page note replying to the Belgian reparations plan of June 3, International News Service learned from an authoritative source this afternoon. It is understood the note discusses in detail the Belgian plan.
The so-called Belgian plan, which calls for payment of 40,000,000,000 gold marks by Germany, is now under scrutiny by a committee of experts from the inter-allied reparations commission.

Fifty Kimonos to Be Sent Japanese Women

Additional relief work for Japanese sufferers is to be undertaken by the Glendale Red Cross, according to the chairman, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, who announced this morning that Glendale women are asked to make fifty kimonos by November 1, to be sent to Japan before the intense winter cold begins.
The call is for volunteer workers. Material is furnished by the western division, the garments are cut out, and all that is required is the sewing. Anyone desiring to help are asked to telephone the secretary, Mrs. John Robert White at Glendale 2106.

Girl to Stand on Wing of Plane While it Loops Loop Sunday Over Country Club Highlands

Miss Gladys Ingle, daring aviatrix, who will thrill visitors Sunday at Country Club Highlands, and one of the new homes being built on the tract.

Opportunity with pleasure is the keynote being struck at Country Club Highlands by Marvin Smith, tract manager. Each Sunday a varied and intensely interesting program of entertainment is offered as an accompaniment to the $100,000 or more of sales rolled up.

"Our big difficulty is to get people to come to the tract," says Mr. Smith. "That is why we offer the entertainment features. Once they have looked over the property, either from the investment or homesite viewpoint, people buy in the great majority of cases, for unprecedented values are there."

Of Glendale interest Country Club Highlands is located on Pico boulevard, midway between Los Angeles and Santa Monica. It is named by reason of its proximity to three fine golf clubs. The tract owners are Senator Ben C. Sheldon of Hollywood, subdivided the Wing Orange Groves tract some months back, which was sold out in record time by Marvin Smith.

One of the stars who will perform Sunday, October 21, at Country Club Highlands is Miss Gladys Ingle, aviatrix, who will stand on the wings of a speeding plane while it loops the loop, a stunt never before attempted.

Others on Program
Other entertainers include "Daredevil" Campbell, Universal picture star, who will do his thrilling leap by parachute from a flying plane; and Floyd Reese and his Club Royale orchestra, from New York City.

With Los Angeles pushing nearer and nearer the sea, property values at Country Club Highlands, in the direct path of most intense development, are bound to rise sharply, says Marvin Smith. "Pico boulevard is the 'air-line' to the beaches."

"Country Club Highlands will, moreover, develop into one of the most beautiful residential districts of the Southland. Consider these things, then take my assurance that our prices are impossible to duplicate—then come out and see us Sunday. It will be a big day."

New Realty Concern Opens Offices Here

Another realty firm that has been attracted to Glendale by the certainty of the city's rapid growth is Gullord-Craig Company, which has opened offices at 408 Lawson building, 143 North Brand boulevard, specializing in every department of the real estate business.

W. E. Gullord comes to Glendale from Caspar, Wyo., where he was associated with a building and loan company and where he also engaged in the real estate business. The other partner, W. L. Craig knows Southern California realty values through his twenty years of experience as a builder of homes here and in Los Angeles.

Accountant Held On Georgia Larceny Charge

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—J. R. Edwards, an accountant, was arrested here today by deputy sheriffs on a warrant from Atlanta, Ga., authorities, and was held in the county jail pending the arrival of officers from the southern city. According to word received by the sheriff's office here, Edwards is wanted in Atlanta on a grand larceny charge. Details of Edwards' alleged crime were lacking in information received by the local authorities.

Cabinet Member Flies To Visit Ex-Premier

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Secretary of Labor Davis arrived here yesterday by airplane from Cheyenne, Wyoming, whence he came to see David Lloyd George. The secretary went immediately to the Drake hotel to call upon England's former prime minister.

Legion Vote Rejects Anti-Klan Resolutions

5. Suggestion to congress for the building of a memorial hospital in honor of gold star mothers.
6. Expression of sympathy for Japan in its earthquake disaster.
7. Establishment of railway mail service seniority for world war veterans.
8. Testimonial to President Harding's work.

Klan Stirs Storm
After a conference lasting far into the morning, the resolution committee, tossed about by the anti-Klan resolution for the past three days, finally came to an agreement and submitted its report to the convention. Stormy scenes behind locked doors marked the deliberations of the committee on the Klan issue, but it was said the way had been paved for adoption of the report without a fight in the convention hall.

An effort, however, may be made by some of the radical opponents of the Klan to attempt to amend the resolution by specifically mentioning the Knights.

The report contained the following denunciation of the Klan:

Score Racial Hatred
"Whereas the fundamental law of our country guarantees to all peoples equal rights and opportunities and the right to worship God as they see fit, and in that the American Legion includes in its membership former service men of every race, creed and color,

"Be it resolved, that the American Legion considers any individuals or organizations which create or foster racial, religious or class strife among our people, or which take into their own hands the enforcement of the law, determination of guilt, or infliction of punishment, to be un-American, a menace to our liberties and destructive to our fundamental law.

October Permits Go Over Half Million Mark

Few building permits were issued Wednesday, due to the fact that the office of the building inspector was closed from 1:45 to 4:30 in the afternoon, on account of the funeral of Clarence Edwards.

Total permits for the month now amount to $514,359, and for the year, $7,820,290.

Permits issued Wednesday include:

Painters, Sculptors Club Meets Friday

The Painters and Sculptors club, of which John W. Cotton is president, and F. Grayson Sayre, secretary, will entertain socially for the first time, Friday night, of this week, when the members will keep open house at the Hans Froelich studio, 144 1/2 Wilcox avenue, Hollywood. Glendale members extend a cordial invitation to their friends who are interested in art to attend. A social program and informal dancing will be features of the evening.

This art club was organized in August and is composed of thirty-two working members, all recognized artists who reside in the vicinity of Los Angeles. It is similar to the Salmagundi art club in New York and the Palette and Brush club in Chicago. The club working quarters are in the old Lyceum building on North Spring street in Los Angeles and many of the members employ professional models. It is of interest to local people to note that artists from Glendale fill the leading offices of the organization. The club is open to associate members also.

Citizens of Seattle Observe Alaska Day

SEATTLE, Oct. 18.—Commemorating the fifty-sixth anniversary of the raising of the American flag at Sitka, today was observed as Alaska day in Seattle. Chief among the events of the day will be an address on Alaska, and what the northern territory means to Seattle, by B. C. Forbes, financial writer and economic expert.

Forbes has been literally swamped with engagements from hundreds of thousands who have turned out to hear his messages.

Curious White House Dog Given New Name

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—A rechristening was held at the White House late yesterday. Mrs. Coolidge's three months' old Airedale, "Laddie Buck," is now called "Paul Pry." The name resulted from his ultra-inquisitive nature.

court be indorsed. The proposed legion commission would report its findings at the next convention of the veterans.

Hush Falls Over Meeting
As Colonel Miller, for the past five years chairman of the resolutions committee, which annually has shaped the policies of the organization, mounted the convention platform to offer his committee's report, a hush of expectancy fell over the legionnaires. This was almost immediately broken by wild cheering, which was continued as important phases of the report were revealed to the delegates.

While the excitement was at its height members of other committees were preparing, behind locked doors, to shape the action of the body later today and tomorrow upon future policies of the legionnaires relating to vital questions covering rehabilitation and welfare of sick and wounded veterans, the soldiers' bonus, air armament and the American Legion Weekly.

Oppose Owsley's Plans
Opponents of Commander Owsley's plan to call a conference to consider limitation of air armament were generally conceded today to have scored a victory, and it appeared unlikely that the question of calling the conference would reach the convention floor, having died in the hands of the legion commission.

One of the biggest ovations accorded any of the distinguished visitors to the convention was given this morning by the fighting men to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Gompers told the veterans there was a well founded bond of friendship between the veterans and the labor federation, pointing out that a majority of the legionnaires were from the great masses of the country—the working class. He referred to his appearance before the legion convention in New Orleans and expressed a hope that the relations between the two organizations would always be friendly.

Three In Race

Interest continues intense in the contest for national commander. Drain of District of Columbia, Thompson of Pennsylvania and Quinn of California, were regarded as running a neck and neck race with none the favorite. The convention appeared more plastic than ever in its attitude toward the commandership contest and it was considered likely by many leaders that a dark horse candidate, slipped into the race at the last moment, would carry off the honor.

The election of officers and selection of the next convention city will take place tomorrow, when the convention is scheduled to end.

This afternoon an elaborate entertainment program, including a program of sports in which world-famous athletes performed, was given in Oakland and Berkeley, across San Francisco bay.

Five Bandit Suspects Held at Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 18.—Five persons arrested here as suspects in the hunt for the bandits who held up and dynamited the Portland-San Francisco Express near Siskiyou, killing four trainmen, were held incommunicado today by the police, pending further investigation.

Those held are O. J. Underwood, J. L. Millett, John D. Carroll, C. M. Mullford and Mrs. Bernice Gordon. The first three are said by police to resemble the description of the alleged bandits. A shot-gun and revolvers and a quantity of ammunition was found in possession of the party, officers said.

The term "kidskin" is applied alike to all kid and goatskin.

Indictments of 29 in Crime Ring Promised
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Twenty-nine men, alleged members of a nation-wide crime ring, face indictment here today, following the return of true bills against them by the federal grand jury before Federal Judge W. P. James.

Among those indicted is said to be a New York broker as well as men prominent in Chicago, Boston, Cincinnati, Toledo, Detroit and Los Angeles. Herbert Wilson, former minister, now serving a life sentence in San Quentin penitentiary for the murder of his pal, Herbert Cox, and from whom a confession is said to have led to the uncovering of information by federal officers that resulted in the indictments, was also named in the true bills. None of the names of the men indicted were given out and they will be kept secret until after their arrests.

PAPYRUS' SPEED EVENS UP ODDS

Practice Performance This Morning Reveals English Champion At Best

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Papyrus, England's champion 3-year-old, ran a mile in 1:38 2-5 at Belmont park this morning in his final workout for the international match race Saturday with Zev, and did it so easily that there was a doleful shaking of heads as the clockers pocketed their watches. It was less than an exercise gallop. It was just a romp, the English colt merely breezing through the distance with hardly a surge from the hands of "Conc-on-Steve" Donoghue, England's premier jockey.

The performance was so impressive that trackside odds quickly went to even money, with little if any Zev money in sight. It was the common impression of those who watched the trial, that Zev will have to make a greater effort than anyone ever suspected him of being to outrun Papyrus Saturday.

"I'm satisfied," tersely said Basil Jarvis, trainer of the English colt, when the trial was over. "There is nothing to add. Papyrus is running just as well as I expected him to do. We should win on Saturday."

Papyrus' time for the mile was close to the track record, but there were other features more impressive about the trial than showed on the dial of the timers' watches. In the first place, Zev, at least half the distance into the teeth of a head wind. In the second, he started very slowly and easily, contrary to his wont. He merely allowed Bargold, his stable companion, to step out to a three-length lead, then, increasing his speed without apparent effort, picked up the other horse at the end of the back stretch, galloped side by side with him along the long turn and then, halfway up the stretch, stepped out at his best and passed the judges' stand four lengths in front, with Donoghue's hand clutching firmly at the reins.

Continuing at an easy gallop, he went on to a mile and an eighth in 1:51 2-5 pulled up.

Sam Says, Says He
Sam Hildreth, trainer of Zev, was one of the clockers. He pocketed his watch without a word and looked very stern.

Asked to comment on Papyrus' workout, he replied:

"Papyrus is a good horse, a real champion. He never looked out of it. I always knew he could run."

One of the things which have local horsemen running around in circles is that the visiting colt has not yet been sent out to run at his best. It was believed he would be sent over the full distance of a mile and a half at top speed this morning, but Jarvis said he hoodwinked the boys by cutting off the final half and letting his horse enjoy a mere gallop. In other words, Papyrus' speed is still a deep track mystery.

The horse finished the trial in wonderful condition. He breathed very easily as stable hands walked him up and down, and later cooled off satisfactorily, according to information that came from the invader's stable.

JOIE RAY, Great Miler, Performing for Legion
BERKELEY, Cal., Oct. 18.—Joie Ray, the greatest miler in America, will be the headline attraction this afternoon at California field when the pick of the American Legion stars compete for honors in the "Joie Ray" contest.

Ray at present holds the two-mile record and will attempt to lower the mark set by Norman Taber, who paced to a new world's mile record until Nurni, Finn, cut down the figure.

Ray will have as competitors such stars as George T. Bertsch of the affalo, who defeated him in a mile race last year; Earl Bierbaum of the Olympic club, Bill Kerr, star of last year's Stanford team, Allen Charles and others.

Cochran of Mississippi, who beat McDonald of California in the national intercollegiate 440-yard event, is expected to win from the rest of the quarter milers. He has covered the distance in 48.45. A. M. Morrow, of the same school, will be right behind, while Blink Williamson and Van Judah will represent California in the event.

Christian May Make Offer for Cleveland
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—George B. Christian, Jr., secretary to the late President Harding, soon may make an offer to purchase the Cleveland American league baseball club, it was learned here. Although Christian had entered no negotiations as yet, he is considering the deal.

It is believed Christian will have financial backing from Edward B. McLean, the Washington publisher, and Albert Lasker, former chairman of the shipping board and a part owner in the Chicago Cubs. Christian is reported to have conferred with President Ben Johnson of the American league, in New York during the world's series, relative to the details.

The Indians are now owned by the widow of James C. Dunn, the late baseball magnate.

Woman Challenges Any Amazon To Battle October 23

Mrs. Kid Martin, 135 Pounds, former wife of the fighter of that name, who will meet Mrs. Ole Shumard, 100 North Brand boulevard, next Tuesday night, October 23, under auspices of the Glendale Athletic club, issues an open challenge to box any woman in this part of the country.

Any of the fair sex who wish to clash mitts with this confident Amazon may communicate with Les Marston, matchmaker.

U. S. PEAGREENS TO MEET MODESTO

Friday Battle Scheduled As Varsity Goes North For Seattle Game

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—With the University of Southern California varsity eleven at Seattle meeting Washington, Coach Leo Calland's Trojan peagreeners advance from the preliminary to main event this week. The U. S. C. Frosh meet the Modesto Junior college tomorrow on Broadway field in the only local game in which a Trojan team takes part. The game will be played on a Friday in order to let the Frosh watch the Stanford-Occidental tussle, which is scheduled for Saturday in the Coliseum.

Leo Calland expects a tough struggle for his charges tomorrow when they stack up against the Junior collegians of Modesto. Last week the Modesto crew held the strong Stanford freshmen to a single touchdown, losing out by a 7 to 0 score. The visiting team, coached by Kenneth Townsend, a former Trojan grid star.

Calland plans on starting the strongest peagreen eleven available, but will be without the services of one of the regular ends, Willie Lewis, former Bakerville star, who twisted his tendon in his leg last Saturday against Long Beach. Either Ted Coffman or Jimmy McCue will start at right end in place of Lewis tomorrow. However, Lewis' loss will be partially offset by the return of George Britte, regular guard, and Bob Lee, fullback and punter, to action. Both of these men were laid up previous to the Long Beach game, but are now in shape to do their stuff.

Tomorrow's game Calland will probably start the following lineup: Badgro and Coffman, ends; Behrendt and C. Thompson, tackles; Britte and Cox, guards; Cravath, center; Wilcox, quarterback; Larameta and Taylor, halfbacks, and Lee, fullback.

PREMIER JOCKEY GALLOPS PAPYRUS

Steve Donoghue Sends His Horse Six Furlongs in Exercise Sprint

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—With the short, familiar underpinning of Steve Donoghue, premier jockey of England, gripping the neck for the first time since he came to America, Papyrus breezed six furlongs at Belmont park yesterday in preparation for the international match race with Zev on Saturday.

The workout was just an exercise gallop, most of the attention being directed at Donoghue, making his first appearance on an American track. The on-lookers saw a tiny fellow, four feet eleven inches—but with powerful arms and shoulders, just the type to make the most of a driving finish. His hands are small, but strong, his eyes brown and twinkling and his skin tanned by constant life in the open.

Donoghue's seat in the saddle was easy but firm and he handled Papyrus with the air of one who enjoyed a privilege.

"From what I could learn of the colt this morning, Papyrus is ready to run at any time," the jockey said after the workout. "He may be bothered a bit by the dirt track but otherwise conditions are equal. I think Papyrus will prove himself a great horse on Saturday."

Meantime, the American representative, Zev, had run an impressive trial at a mile and a quarter, negotiating the distance in 2:09 with L. Fator up. At the end, the Sinclair colt was blowing badly and seemed tired.

Accompanied by Little Chief, he opened up with a sensational burst of speed, running the first five furlongs in 59 3-5 and went on to the mile in 1:39 3-5. From that point, however, Zev began to wilt and, moving very sluggishly, ran the final quarter in the slow time of 29 and 2-5.

As a result of the effort, odds on the race dropped today from 4 to 5 down to 3 with Zev a rapidly retreating favorite.

Jack Johnson Would Enter Arena Again

Montreal, former heavyweight champion, has wired promoters of the Sam Langford-Jim Flynn match to be staged here Friday night of this week, asking that he be matched with the winner.

Jim Coffroth will referee the bout.

TUJUNGA

NOMINATE EIGHT FOR C. C. BOARD

Four Directors To Be Chosen At Election Scheduled In November

Eight men were nominated at the last meeting of the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce to fill four approaching vacancies on the board of directors. They are: Harry Zachau, Leon Carr, J. C. Haines, C. H. Conway, P. J. Reihm, M. F. Gilmer, T. C. Bludworth and Dr. Lowell C. Frost.

From these eight, four will be elected to the board at the November meeting.

Road improvement work as outlined by the special committee of twelve sectional representatives and recommended to the Chamber was adopted without a dissenting vote. It includes the following street work: Grading and oiling Los Angeles boulevard from Monte Vista to Michigan avenue; Palm street from Manzanita to Hill street; El Centro canyon road; Hill street from Palm to Monte Vista boulevard, and Summit avenue from Cedar to Palm street.

CZECHO-SLOVAK PROGRAM STAGED

Cosmopolitan Club Members Entertained at Home Of Coach Pipal

The Cosmopolitan club of Occidental college met at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Joseph Pipal last evening. The program was in charge of Joe Rouch, a native Czechoslovakian, and the evening was a Czechoslovak evening. Coach Pipal is also from that country, and owns many of his country's pictures, ornaments, furniture, rugs, paintings, which were on exhibit. The decorations were in typical Czechoslovak style, and the refreshments were in that nation's style.

Edward Jones, president of the club, presided at the meeting. Dr. R. D. Bird gave a short talk on the Cosmopolitan club, which is destined to orient the spirit and activities of the college.

Professor Day addressed the group on the aims of the Cosmopolitan club. "Our one aim is to promote friendship of the nations through the foreign students."

Tells Race's History
Coach Pipal then told the members "That Czechoslovakia has contributed to America." He outlined the entire history of his country, emphasizing the intelligence of the people. The University of Prague had more students in attendance 150 years before Columbus discovered America than Yale university has today. There are more bookstores in that country than here, and the nation has its own literature, language and religion.

Professor Frederick Bird said a few words concerning the new constitution of Czechoslovakia. He paid a great tribute to President Masaryk and Secretary of State Benes, who have sacrificed everything for their country. Their constitution is modeled somewhat on that of the United States. They have national referendum, national representation, a supreme court, individual rights of freedom, and compulsory voting.

Mr. Rouch gave an interesting talk on "Why My Country Is Grateful to America."

Additional Raids In Dope Drive Planned

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Additional raids, netting officers other prominent Los Angeles persons and the seizure of narcotics, were promised by the police "dope" squad today as a result of the alleged evidence taken in a raid which resulted in the confiscation of $5,000 worth of drugs and the arrest of six persons.

In the arrest of Dr. George Malsbury, 50, his nurse, Mrs. Belle Crow, 35, Mr. and Mrs. F. Beven, H. D. Moody, 25, and John Campbell, 29, the officers claim they have broken up a "dope ring."

The dope squad claim they found $60 in marked money in Dr. Malsbury's possession after buying an ounce of drugs from Moody.

4 PER CENT FARM LOAN PLAN BARED

North Dakota Senator Would Sponsor Billion Dollar Government Bank

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—A billion dollar government bank for lending money to American farmers at 4 per cent interest!

Although it would revolutionize the American financial system, this in effect is the proposal advocated today by Senator Edwin F. Ladd, Republican of North Dakota, for stabilizing agriculture. Ladd's plan is based on the government issuing millions of dollars in new United States treasury certificates—guaranteed by the gold and silver bullion in its vaults—and lending the new money to farmers through postal savings banks at 4 per cent interest.

The new greenbacks, Ladd declared, would give the farmer cheaper credit, easily accessible cash and end a "money famine" now existing in the west. To speed up the plan, Ladd would place a limit of $5,500,000,000 on all paper money to be circulated in the United States, which ultimately would force the retirement of all other paper money in favor of federal greenbacks.

Introduce Bill
The North Dakota senator announced he would introduce a bill in the next congress to put his plan in operation. It is certain to meet vigorous opposition from financial institutions and perhaps from treasury officials. A new "money fight," similar to the famous Bryan 16-to-1 controversy may be projected.

Ladd also issued a warning that the United States faces a domestic crisis similar to Germany's financial ruin because of the "debt enslavement of farmers." He declared a change in the nation's credit system can prevent a financial smash.

Home Brewers Flock To File Certificates

Six thousand heads of family have filed certificates of intention to produce two hundred gallons of fruit juices annually for home consumption, during the first nine months of this year, ending October 1, according to a report made yesterday by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell. For the entire fiscal year ending June 30 the number of declarations filed was 4816 compared with 6008 for nine months of this year.

With the vintage season on, as many as five hundred declarations have been filed in a single day. In filing a declaration to produce fruit juice the head of a family signs the following statement under oath:

"I intend to commence producing fruit juice solely for my family use and not for sale or to be otherwise removed or consumed, and that I do not intend to produce more than 200 gallons of fruit juice during the present vintage season."

"I further state that if I produce, or have on hand at any one time more than 200 gallons of fruit juice during the present vintage season containing one-half of one per cent or more alcohol, I will give timely notice thereof, execute bond and in all other respects comply with the requirements of all regulations relating to the production and sale of fruit juices containing one-half of one per cent or more of alcohol."

Hundreds See Picture of Verdugo Holocaust

In the window of the Japan Art & Tea company, 135 South Brand boulevard, is a painting that hundreds of Glendaleans have paused thoughtfully to view. It is entitled "Montrose Fire, Seen from Acacia Street School."

The artist, E. Franquinet, is a resident of this city, living at 826 South Mariposa street. A Belgian by birth, he has been for many years an esteemed citizen of Glendale.

Returning some six months ago from a two-years' tour of Europe, most of which time was spent in his native Belgium, studying the countryside from an artist's viewpoint, Mr. Franquinet at once joined the Glendale Art association, expressing himself as delighted that Glendale should foster such an organization.

Committees to Fix Welfare Chest Plans

Tonight is the big night in the affairs of the Glendale Welfare Chest, four committees being called to meet at 7:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce to put the final touches on. The amount of money to be raised, when the campaign will start, and numerous important questions will be settled at this meeting.

The committees are budget and indorsement finance, campaign and publicity. Thirty people make up the four committees.

MIDNIGHT FIRE VASTLY EXCITING

Thrills, Romance Combined In Alice Calhoun's Big Starring Vehicle

"There's something vastly exciting about a fire at midnight," says pretty Alice Calhoun, who plays the lead in the Vitaphone special, "The Midnight Alarm," now showing at the Gateway theatre. "There is something about the somberness of the hour that adds thrill and romance and danger to fires at that time."

To get some of that thrill and romance and danger for the making of her picture, Miss Calhoun at the special invitation of the Los Angeles fire department visited Enginehouse No. 14 just before midnight, hoping an alarm would come in.

Sure enough, at 12:04 o'clock the great gong began to clatter. The men slid down the brass poles and took their positions. Miss Calhoun was helped into the battalion chief's car and away they went.

"It was an unusual sensation to speed out into the quiet night at forty and fifty miles an hour, the bells and sirens jumbling into a medley of discords that thrilled one," she told David Smith, director, on her return. "And thrilling too, it was to round the corners on two wheels, wondering whether or not we'd tip over."

Alice Calhoun plays the part of Sparkle in her new Vitaphone picture, "The Midnight Alarm," now showing at the Gateway Theatre. Percy Marmont is the fire captain, while Cullen Landis and Joseph Kilgour have leading roles in the well-balanced cast.

The story is one to command and grip the attention, weaving a romance of feeling and sincerity throughout the fabric of many thrills.

Merino Tailors Show Latest Woolen Styles

A. L. Molitor, who recently took over the Merino tailors, 212 North Brand boulevard, is this week receiving a large and carefully selected shipment of the latest woolens from the leading eastern supply houses, which he plans to offer to his patrons on the same terms and with the same iron-clad guarantee as he has been giving in the past.

Mr. Molitor is conducting his business along the same conservative lines that were followed in building the business up to its present proportions, giving entire satisfaction in fit, workmanship and material on every garment made in his shop.

His many years of experience as an expert tailor and cutter, his knowledge of the markets, and the pride he takes in his work, assure the patrons of the Merino tailors absolute satisfaction. Mr. Molitor claims, and he will retain the name, Merino Tailors, as a guarantee of the all wool quality of his merchandise.

A. Gelmor, the former proprietor of the establishment, recommends Mr. Molitor very strongly to the former patrons of the store and feels sure that they will be satisfied with the service the new owner renders them. The offer of an extra pair of pants with every suit that was made this week drew a large volume of business to the Merino tailors.

Buys His Own Fruit At 600 Per Cent Raise

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 18.—R. L. Tudbury, manager of the Loomis Fruitgrowers' association who has just returned from a six weeks' inspection of eastern markets, reports that he repurchased his own pears in Reading, Pa., at an increase of over 600 per cent in excess of what he was paid by the jobber.

Tudbury sold a box of 165 pears to a jobber for $2.65. After deducting freight, refrigeration, loading and commission, the Loomis man found he had less than one per cent for his return.

The Reading retailer sold Tudbury sixteen of the latter's pears for $1.00, or in excess of six times the price the grower received.

Senator Norris Flays Ford for Weeks' Attack

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The war department's sale of the Gorgas steam plant, located near the huge water power project in Muscle Shoals, Alabama, to the Alabama Power company, was upheld today by Senator George W. Norris, Republican of Nebraska, chairman of the senate agriculture committee, in a statement condemning Henry Ford for his recent attacks upon Secretary of War Weeks.

Norris declared Ford's criticism of the secretary's transaction was "unfair, unjust and selfish."

New Rail Construction Planned in Montana

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The North and South Railroad company today asked the interstate commerce commission for authority to construct a new railroad, 332 miles in length, from Miles City, Mont., to Casper, Wyo., designed to serve the territory embraced in the Salt Creek oil fields.

The projected line also would draw considerable business from the area embraced in the development of the Teapot Dome oil fields, leased to the Sinclair interests a year ago by the government.

Peter L. Ferry Talks About Mexico At Exchange Club

Intensely interesting and instructive word pictures of present-day Mexico were painted at yesterday's Exchange club luncheon in Jensen's Egyptian village, 133 North Brand boulevard, by Peter L. Ferry, prominent Southern California road contractor and resident of Glendale.

"Picture a country where land as fertile as any in Los Angeles county, and adequately supplied by water from nearby rivers, and lakes, can be had for from 75 cents to $2 an acre, land that would bring hundreds and even thousands of dollars an acre here.

Need Banking System
"Picture a country that has not one big bank from one end to the other, that transacts a strictly cash business, where collateral is worthless and it is practically impossible to borrow money. How much business would we do here in Southern California, if we had no banks?

"Picture a country where every city has a half dozen or more parks. Why, in Mexico they have a park every three blocks! Wouldn't Glendale be sitting pretty if she had even one honest-to-goodness park?

"Picture a country where they plow the land with oxen and wooden plows, where the oxen move down the furrows so slowly that from the train they appear to be standing still. Why, just imagine what American capital, American initiative and American machinery could do in that country! They only scratch the surface of the soil. With our cat-erpillars and steel plows that turn soil a foot and more deep, we could make Mexico one of the

Bryant Twins, Henry Johnston, Celebrate Births

The Bryant twins—Hugh and Dean—celebrated their twenty-second birthday at a dinner party served at the home of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant, 534 North Maryland avenue, on Tuesday evening, October 16, 1923.

Henry Johnston, who also was 82 years of age on the same day, in company with Mrs. Johnston of 111 North Everett street, journeyed over to the Bryant home to have dinner with the boys.

Hugh and Dean were born in Marshalltown, Iowa. They are now employed by the Southern California Gas company.

Realtors Review Convention Achievements at Luncheon

"The Glendale Realty Board put over the finest stunt that was ever pulled off for the benefit of Glendale during the convention," declared Charles B. Guthrie, vice-president of the California Real Estate Association's seventh regional district, at the regular weekly meeting of the board in Jensen's Egyptian Village yesterday, when he presided in the absence of President C. D. Thom.

Mr. Guthrie gave full credit for the splendid showing of the Glendale board to W. L. Truitt, chairman of the membership committee, in lifting Glendale into the ranks of the six cities in the state that have three directors in the state board, a position occupied only by the boards of San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles, the Southwest Board of Los Angeles, Long Beach and Glendale.

In acknowledging the praise of Mr. Guthrie, Mr. Truitt gave full credit to the other members of his committee, Mrs. S. B. Stewart, John F. McClish, Earl L. Schuyler and J. I. Wernette, for their work in bringing the membership past the 100 mark.

Board's Newest Member
Mr. Truitt stated that the fifty-three new members whose names he and his committee had secured had been increased by one more member nine days ago when his youngest daughter was born, the little lady making her appearance in this world with a Glendale flag in one hand and a tract map in the other.

BURIAL TRIBUTE TO C. L. EDWARDS

Obsequies Largely Attended By Legionnaires and Masonic Brothers

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff

"The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away" were the fitting words spoken yesterday afternoon by the Rev. C. M. Calderwood at obsequies held for Clarence Lewis Edwards, aged 34, only son of Mrs. Johanna Edwards, 269 West California avenue, who was buried in Forest Lawn Memorial park with fitting military tribute.

Mr. Edwards, in company with Joseph W. McGahan, heroically perished Saturday, October 13, 1923, in defending this city from a brush fire which swept the San Rafael hills. He was a member of Central and Wilson avenues, and an active member of Glendale post, American Legion.

Largely Attended
Both the Masons and Legionnaires played a big part in the services which were the most largely attended of any ever held in the city of Glendale. First, at the Congregational church, corner of Central and Wilson avenues, the Rev. Mr. Calderwood and Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, the latter a close friend of Mr. Edwards, officiated.

"Men stand before God by their character," said the Rev. Mr. Snudden, Methodist minister now of South Pasadena and formerly of Glendale, pastor here. "Men are not measured by classes, clan, churches or organization."

Rev. Snudden spoke of Mr. Edwards' virtues, his patriotism, his filial devotion and his membership in church and organization, all making him a character whose life will long be cherished. The vicarious sacrifice of this young man was another thought which brought real heart sobs from the mourning multitude which filled the church.

Rev. C. R. Norton, chaplain of N. P. Banks post, G. A. R., delivered an eulogistic benediction and Keamoku A. Lewis sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Face to Face."

Services at Grave
At the grave Dwight W. Stephenson, past worshipful master of Unity lodge, read the ritual, being a former service man and comrade of Mr. Edwards. H. A. Strong and other officials, as well as 200 members of the Masonic order, bade final farewell to their fraternal brother.

Don H. Packer, vice-commander of the American Legion, presided over brief ceremonies at the grave, the Rev. Harley G. Preston, chaplain of the post, reading the benediction prayer. More than 100 comrades were present.

A firing squad composed of Corporal Francis Bacon, Arden Gingery, Angelo Brucker, Henry Dreyer and Herbert Lally, under the direction of Captain J. H. Wittmeyer of the Glendale National Guards, gave the customary salute of three volleys.

High School P. T. A. Opens Year's Work With Program Attended by Over Seventy

Predictions of a banner year for the Glendale Union High school Parent-Teacher association, were given yesterday afternoon by parents and teachers who participated in the first meeting of the year in the music room at the school. Mrs. C. H. Whitney, who was unanimously chosen president at the close of last year, was in charge and in her welcome to teachers and parents, told of her efforts during the summer in mapping out the year's work, and expressed the gratification of the officers at the attendance of over seventy. All of them were women, but one.

The music room had been chosen as the meeting place, because of its adequate room, but by the hour for the meeting there were mothers and teachers standing in wait for additional chairs.

Speeches and Music
Mrs. George U. Moyle, vice principal, brought greetings from the faculty, expressing delight at the fine attendance and the belief that the Parent-Teacher association of the high school is to enjoy the greatest year in its history. Mrs. E. B. Moore spoke as president of the P. T. A. federation and Ronald West, president of the student cabinet, told of the student ticket system.

Assisted by Mrs. Dora L. Gibson and Mrs. Charles A. Parker of the music department, Mrs. Thompson, program chairman, had arranged several entertaining features. There were selections by a stringed trio, Lillian Sutton violinist; Marjorie Potts, cellist and Lenora Rose, pianist; a reading by Cecil Chase; and vocal numbers by a group of girls of the glee club.

Freshmen Parents Score
Mrs. Lucas, who has taken up the duties of membership chairman, announced that the association had given her $25 to use in her work. After consultation with Mrs. Moyle, it was decided that this amount be given the class having the largest representation at the meetings up to January. At the meeting yesterday the freshmen class had the largest number of parents and friends present.

Special mention was made of the fine compliment paid Glendale High school students who come to Occidental college, by Dean Irene Meyers in her address to the Glendale College Women's club last Saturday. She stated that the Glendale graduates were unusually well qualified to take up higher education.

Later a social hour was held in the cafeteria of the school with the courtesy chairman, Mrs. Fox, in charge.

During the meeting hour Mrs. Whitney introduced the officers and chairmen present. Officers and chairmen of the association are: Mrs. C. H. Whitney, president; Mrs. W. W. Stoff, vice-president; Mrs. J. I. Wernette, secretary; Mrs. R. C. Horner, treasurer; Mrs. W. A. Kulp, historian; Mrs. A. H. Brown, parliamentarian; Mr. and Mrs. George U. Moyle, ex-officio members of the board.

Mrs. C. H. Thompson, program chairman; Mrs. P. O. Lucas, membership; Mrs. W. A. Saylor, patriotism; Mrs. C. H. Ambrosch, education; Mrs. William Wichert, visiting and hospitality; Mrs. John Fox, courtesy; Paul E. Webb, publicity; Mrs. Reed Heustie, emblems and magazines; Normal Hayhurst, playground; Mrs. F. L. Martinez, legislation and child

SHARP ADVANCE IN LUMBER COST

George H. Bentley Tells of Conditions Affecting 'Local Market'

Demand upon the Oregon and Washington markets for lumber to rebuild the devastated cities in Japan, during the last few weeks, has reached such sharp proportions that a sharp advance in lumber prices has resulted, amounting to approximately 20 per cent, local lumber dealers report.

While the schedule of advanced prices has been in effect for a month at the wholesale markets the change has not been felt by the public, but dealers intimate that homebuilders may expect the increase to be passed along as soon as local stocks, purchased at old prices, are depleted, which is likely to be within a month.

George H. Bentley, secretary-treasurer of the Bentley Lumber company, in discussing the situation with a representative of The Glendale Evening News, did not care to venture a prediction as to the length of time higher rates might be expected to obtain, although he thought six months or longer would be a conservative guess. In case building starts off actively in the eastern part of the United States when spring opens, he is of the opinion prices will remain firm for a considerable period of time.

No let-up in local building activities is anticipated, dealers say, in view of the small ratio the lumber bears to the total cost of the ordinary building. It is also pointed out that the public usually buys lavishly on a rising market.

TODAY—Cleveland's New Voting Plan Call for Higher Mathematics.

By WILLIAM J. HUSKE
For International News Service

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 18.—Voting in Cleveland in November, when the new city council is elected under the "proportional representation" plan invented by a genius named Hare, who hailed from the Antipodes, will be only a matter of simple arithmetic, but the counting of the ballots will require a little bit of algebra, some plane and solid geometry and perhaps calculus and astronomy.

At least that is the way one is impressed with the explanations now being made in voters' schools conducted by the Civic League, and designed to show the voters of the city how the new plan of choosing a city council, which in turn will elect a city manager, will operate.

A city council of 25 members is to be elected in four districts into which the city has been divided under the new "city manager" charter, which takes effect January 1. The number of councilmen elected in each district is fixed by the charter, and the voter when he enters the booth will be confronted with a list of perhaps 25 candidates.

He takes his ballot, scans the list, according to the civic league, then marks the numeral "1" before the man whose name happens to strike his fancy as best qualified for the job of councilman.

This does not complete his job, however. Far from it. Even the veriest baby could pick one out of 25, but the citizen goes on. Next he puts the numeral "2" before the name of the second best of the bunch, and the Civic League admits that the candidates entered assay "only fair to middling."

And so on down the line. The good citizen is not expected to stop even with the number of candidates to which his district is entitled, but the man who wants to rate "100 per cent" will put the right numeral in front of the name of every would-be councilman even down to 25.

Why you should do this, the League also explains. That's where the higher mathematics come in. When the official dials whose duty it is to count these votes—and, by the way, they've hired the public hall, the largest auditorium in the United States for that job—assemble to count the votes they will first find out just how votes have been cast in the district. Then they will look in the city charter and see how many councilmen are to be elected therein. If there have been 60,000 votes cast and there are seven candidates to be elected a man will need 8,572 votes to win the coveted job, and help write the city's laws and assess the city's taxes. If one of the candidates has been so fortunate as to have 75,000 voters mark the numeral "1" in front of his name he won't get credit with all those votes.

Nothing error could be conceived. The board will credit him with 8,572 votes and then take the remaining 16,000 odd ballots indiscriminately from various sections of the districts and study the numeral "2" which has been scribbled thereon, and these people's votes will then go to anyone needing them until another man reaches the magic total and is declared elected. This process will be kept up until all seven places are filled, even though they go down to the "25th" choices of the discriminating voters.

If this description of the counting process is at all plain it will be seen that the officials charged with this duty will need all the higher mathematics ever taught to keep the record straight. "For the voter," said Prof. A. R. Horton, "it is a matter of simple arithmetic, 'voting is easier than A B C.' It's just '1, 2, 3.' I admit that the counting officials will have to be recruited some other place than from a night school, but this doesn't need to worry a voter. He can be sure that his vote will be counted some time and for some successful candidate."

Prof. Horton, who is one of the nation's recognized authorities on political economy, is a candidate himself. He believes the new charter will function better if he's there at its first trial. The new city council and the city manager which it chooses will provide a fertile field of study.

SEEKS CUSTODY OF CHILDREN Asks U. S. Courts To Uphold French Decree

Mrs. Robert Howard Gamble

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 18.—Will United States courts uphold the decree of a Paris divorce court which grants an American woman a divorce, and at the same time decrees that she shall have absolute custody of minor children?

The question is about to be decided here. The children involved are Catherine Gamble, three years old, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Gamble of Huntington, L. I.

Mrs. Gamble secured a divorce decree in Paris last April. The decree gave her absolute control of the two children.

Tuesday of last week while Mrs. Gamble was absent from her home the children were kidnapped. After a frantic search they were discovered here in the custody of their father. On being told that his former wife would start court proceedings to recover the children, Mr. Gamble said he planned to remain in Florida with the children and would fight any effort to compel their return to New York.

"If legal action is started by anybody to get the two children away from me and to force their return to New York," he said, "I will fight through all the courts necessary. If such action is started my first legal fight will be right here in the courts of Florida, to which I will appeal for an order permitting the children to remain here with me."

Mr. Gamble is several times a millionaire. He distinguished himself in the war, winning the Croix de Guerre. His former wife is a well known beauty and social favorite and a millionaire in her own right.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

—BY HOWARD R. GARIS—

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE TRUNK

"Uncle Wiggily, will you please hop up into the attic for me?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one day.

"What's the matter?" inquired the bunny rabbit gentleman, with a jolly twinkle of his pink nose. "Have you a sore paw so you can't hop up yourself?"

"That's one of your jokes, I suppose," chuckled Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "But, really, I wish you would go to the attic for me—not that I can't go myself, but I want you to bring me down an empty trunk."

"Oh, I'll do that for you, of course, with pleasure," said the bunny gentleman politely. "But, while I'm about it, why not bring down a full trunk?"

"Because I can't pack my clothes in a full trunk," said Nurse Jane. "I am going away on a little visit and I want an empty trunk in which I can pack my things. Please bring it down."

"All right—I will," offered Mr. Longears. "But you aren't angry—are you?"

"Angry—why?" asked Nurse Jane.

"I mean you aren't going away to stay forever and leave me alone, are you?" Uncle Wiggily wanted to know.

"Of course I'm not!" laughed the muskrat lady housekeeper. "I wonder how you would get along in this bungalow if I left? You'd be wearing a pocket handkerchief for a shirt and you'd put the tea box on to boil instead of the tea kettle."

"Well, yes, perhaps I might do that," admitted Uncle Wiggily, absent-mindedly, twinkling his pink nose.

"Then he hopped up to the attic to get out one of the empty trunks. Nurse Jane called to him while he was up there:

"I'll be gone when you come down with the trunk, Uncle Wiggily. But I'll only be over at Mr. Wibblewobble's. The duck lady is sewing some buttons on for me. Leave the trunk in the parlor."

"All right," answered the bunny. So after getting to the attic and hauling out the trunk he began to fiddle it down stairs, pulling and hauling it and letting it bounce and thud from one stair to the next.

"It makes a pleasing sound," said Uncle Wiggily. "But I suppose if Nurse Jane were here she wouldn't like the banging noises. So it's a good thing she isn't here."

Uncle Wiggily set the empty trunk down in the middle of the parlor floor and the bunny gentleman was just going to hop away to go look for an adventure, when all of a sudden, glancing from the parlor window, Uncle Wiggily saw the Fuzzy Fox.

"Oh, ho!" thought the bunny gentleman to himself. "The Fox is coming here to nibble my ears. But I'll fool him, I'll get inside the empty trunk before he gets there."

So Uncle Wiggily opened the empty trunk, curled himself up inside and pulled down the cover. Surely enough, pretty soon in came slinking the Fuzzy Fox.

"I know Uncle Wiggily is here," muttered the Fox to himself. "But I'll only be over at Mr. Wibblewobble's. So I'll nibble his ears as much as I please."

The Fox looked all around inside the hollow stump bungalow, but he couldn't find Uncle Wiggily, who was in the trunk.

"This is very strange—not to say annoying," muttered the Fox. "I thought sure Uncle Wiggily was here. But I guess he must have gone. I see his trunk all packed so he must have skipped out before I arrived. Well, better luck next time."

The Fox slunk away out of the bungalow, and Uncle Wiggily, laughing to himself, was just going to hop out of the trunk. But, as he raised the lid he saw, coming into the room the Wozzie Wolf.

"My goodness! Another of the bad chaps!" thought the bunny. He let the lid of the trunk down very softly so the Wolf didn't see him. And then, shut up in the trunk, the rabbit heard the Wolf say:

"Poo! That foolish Fuzzy Fox doesn't know how to find a rabbit. I'll get Uncle Wiggily."

But, though the Wolf looked all over the bungalow, he couldn't find Uncle Wiggily, who was hidden in the trunk.

"I guess he must have gone on his vacation," snarled the Wolf. "His trunk is all packed ready to be sent after him. Well, better luck next time."

The Wolf went out, and the bunny was about to hop from the trunk, but, just as he raised the lid, in came the Skillery Scallery Alligator.

"Oh, my goodness! Another one!" sighed Uncle Wiggily. "I'll find that rabbit, I gargarled the Gator. He began looking about the room. And as he turned his back his tail was close to the trunk. Uncle Wiggily raised the lid a teeny bit and stuck a pin in the Gator's tail.

"Oh, wow! Oh, wow! Oh, zowie!" howled the Alligator, jumping out of the hollow stump bungalow.

"Did you get Uncle Wiggily?" asked the Fox and Wolf.

"No, he isn't there!" howled the Gator. "But there must be an elephant there. For I saw a trunk and then something bit me! This is no place for us! Come on! Let's run!"

And run away the three bad chaps did, and Uncle Wiggily came out of the trunk.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny rabbit gentleman, twinkling his pink nose. "I played a good trick on them!" And if the lollypop doesn't try to slide down the ironing board and get its stick caught in the lemon squeezer, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the golf ball.

"Oh, wow! Oh, wow! Oh, zowie!" howled the Alligator, jumping out of the hollow stump bungalow.

"Did you get Uncle Wiggily?" asked the Fox and Wolf.

"No, he isn't there!" howled the Gator. "But there must be an elephant there. For I saw a trunk and then something bit me! This is no place for us! Come on! Let's run!"

And run away the three bad chaps did, and Uncle Wiggily came out of the trunk.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny rabbit gentleman, twinkling his pink nose. "I played a good trick on them!" And if the lollypop doesn't try to slide down the ironing board and get its stick caught in the lemon squeezer, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the golf ball.

sounded taps to which Glenn Hemminger sounded the echo from a distant hill, while the sorrowing mother and relatives viewed for the last time the beautiful flower-banked casket of one who died in the service of the city by whom he was employed—a death swallowed up in victory.

The pallbearers were Jesse E. Flower, Harold Wheeler, George Grist, Lewis Roberts, Henry Prussing and Al Bullis. The color guard was composed of Ray Smedley, Victor Carr and Ralph Murdy.

The Scots band, under the direction of Frank Withersell, played the funeral dirge. Kiefer & Eyerick were in charge of arrangements.

Following is a resolution adopted by Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, regarding the passing of Clarence Edwards:

TEXT OF RESOLUTION
Whereas, the Great Commander has summoned from our midst our beloved comrade, Clarence Edwards, a valiant soldier, a beloved son, and an Honorable Citizen; a comrade who was willing to serve in time of peace as in time of war, and

Whereas, the American Legion, Glendale Post, No. 127, and our citizens at large have suffered a great loss in the passing away of our beloved friend and comrade, and Whereas, our comrade, Clarence Edwards, was a member of the American Legion, Glendale Post, No. 127, and his life in the service of others;

Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the American Legion, Glendale Post, No. 127, in special session assembled, do hereby extend our heartfelt sympathy to the mother of our deceased comrade, and trust that she will find consolation in the fact that her son has served his country, his city and his friends; that he has been true to all the trust placed in him and never found wanting, and it is our prayer that this cloud may pass, and that the silver lining shall soon appear in all its glory.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the bereaved family and a copy spread upon the minute book of the American Legion, and a copy published in the local newspaper.

Marching with American Legion

General Joseph Haller of Poland, "sentinel of civilization," will be the guest of the American Legion at the 15th annual convention of the American Legion in San Francisco, October 15 to 19. General Haller, who commanded the Polish army on the west front, fighting at the side of the allied troops, made the trip to America expressly for the purpose of attending the legion's convention, but will be the guest of many cities throughout the nation after his San Francisco appearance.

General Haller comes to America to extend the new republic's greetings as a "fighting pacifist." His address at the legion convention will open an extended tour on which he will visit Portland, Ore.; Omaha, Neb.; St. Paul, Minn.; St. Louis, Mo.; Indianapolis, Chicago; Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, Rochester, N. Y.; Boston, Wilkesbarre, Pa.; Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York city.

Bronx, N. Y., posts of the American Legion are at work devising plans for care of dependents of former world war soldiers and sailors, hoping to institute some such plans in advance of opening of legion homes and billets in conformance with the plans of the national organization. For this reason, the posts favor a pension system for mothers, wives and children of the former servicemen, to be paid either by the legion or under its supervision. Albert L. Ward, county commander of the legion, is strongly in favor of such a plan, and will carry his recommendations before Bronx legionnaires for action.

In order that a real outing place for legion members will be available, members of the organization in the eighth congressional district in Michigan gathered at Higgins lake, near Saginaw, recently and built a lodge, where they will spend leisure hours. Material for the biller was furnished by friends of the organization, and plans by the quartermaster department of the United States army.

Earnest Van Loan, a Texan, formerly a World War soldier, has good cause to be grateful to the American Legion in Richmond, Va., for assistance given him in a time of extreme need. Van Loan was suffering from the effects of the war and was stricken while visiting in Richmond. He was exhausted, hungry and penniless when legion members found him. His former "buddies" immediately secured funds and through influence at the Veterans' Bureau succeeded in having him sent to Washington for hospital treatment. The Richmond post has handled many such cases during the year, and has found it necessary to maintain a large relief fund.

Because crowded school conditions made it impossible to use an accustomed playground in Bridgewater, Mass., an American Legion post in that city set about securing proper facilities for recreation for the children. A special election was nearing, and the legion men circulated a petition to have a proposal for a new playground voted on at the election. The effort was successful and work is now under way for the new play-center.

POEMS That LIVE

THE BETTER WAY
Who serves his country best?
Not he who, for a brief and stormy space,
Leads forth his armies to the fierce affray.

Short is the time of turmoil and unrest,
Long years of peace succeed it and replace;
There is a better way.

Who serves his country best?
Not he who guides her senate in debate,
And makes the laws which are her prop and stay;

Not he who wears the poet's purple vest,
And sings her songs of love and grief and fate;
There is a better way.

He serves his country best
Who joins the tide that lifts her nobly on;
For speech has myriad tongues

And song but one; and law within the breast
Is stronger than the graven law on stone;
There is a better way.

He serves his country best
Who lives pure life, and doeth righteous deed,
And walks straight paths, however others stray,
And leaves his sons as uttermost request

A stainless record which all men may read;
This is the better way.

No drop but serves the slowly lifting tide,
No dew but has an errand to some helpful rag,
No smallest star but sheds some helpful ray,

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Doctor:

"Just a few lines to let you know that I went on that three-day shrinking stomach period to start my reduction. I felt very weak at times, but as soon as I took a drink of water that empty feeling left. I took about 300 to 400 calories daily. Well, my stomach nor any part of me has not shown any change or loss of fat, but I haven't that stuffed, heavy feeling and I do not get so short-winded.

"I am going to make out some menus not amounting to more than 600 calories a day, but, my heavens! when I look on the big bags of fat hanging down on my stomach it takes the heart out of me. Don't you think I need some medicine? Don't you think my fat is too far ahead of me to try to diet it off?

"I wish I could become your private patient. I think if you were to prescribe for me and look out for me personally I would have good results. I cannot walk one block without pain in my back. Gratefully yours, J."

My Dear J.:

I'm sorry, but I am not taking any private patients, either personally or by correspondence, but if you feel the need of personal supervision you undoubtedly can find some skillful physician to care for you.

You say there was no change or loss of fat but you lost the heavy feeling and you do not get so short of breath. That shows there is a loss, and a decided loss, of the fat around your heart and lungs, and undoubtedly the scales would show a loss of weight.

You can go on more than 600 calories a day and lose all you should lose after the first week. You can probably lose enough on 1,200 calories a day, unless you are very short. You do not say how much you weigh, but I do not believe you weigh over 275. Do you? Some of our followers have weighed as much as that and they have reached to normal. There is no doubt you can do the same. I do not believe you need any medicine, but if you do you will have to be personally supervised, otherwise reducing medicines are very dangerous.

How long did it take you to get as fat as you are? You must expect to lose it all at once. Just remember the time is going by anyway and if you lose at the rate of two pounds a week on an average—that is enough—that will amount to 100 pounds during the year. After you lose thirty or forty pounds you'd better go back to a maintenance diet, and stop losing for a month—but do not gain.

P. H.: You can begin to use a

SMARTLY SIMPLE

For indoor use, Paris is indulging the craze for brilliant colors, hence this smartly simple evening frock of tomato-red crepe georgette. The skirt is draped at one side, and the blouse is so designed that it may be draped at the back, with one sleeve flowing to the edge of the skirt, or cut in simple overblouse effect. A picot edge is all the trimming required for the round neck. Medium size requires 7 1/2 yards 40-inch material.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1563. Sizes, 36 to 48 inches bust. Price, 45 cents.

COSTUME OF MANY USES

A blouse added to this tunic skirt, or a skirt added to this long-waisted overblouse, makes a costume of many uses. Satin crepe, plain satin, wool crepe or crepe roma may be used for the blouse, which is entirely self-trimmed, while the skirt lends itself to development in twillcord, serge, broadcloth, Polaire will or charmeuse. The girdle corresponds with the blouse, both in color and material. Medium size requires 2 1/2 yards 36-inch material for the blouse and 3 1/2 yards 54-inch material for the skirt, with 7/8 yard lining for the camisole.

Pictorial Review Blouse No. 1751. Sizes, 34 to 48 inches bust. Price, 30 cents. Skirt No. 1766. Sizes, 37 to 51 inches hip. Price, 35 cents. Motif No. 12820. Transfer, blue or yellow, 25 cents.

BLACKHEADS

Blackheads are an unpleasant topic, but a still more unpleasant trouble to have. Let's see how they can be gotten rid of most easily and quickly.

First, you must understand what they are: little collections of a soft, waxy, oily substance that collect in the pores; that is, the outlets of the surface of the skin, enlarge each pore and acquire, where they come in contact with the dirt in the air, a black tip or head. They extend often an inch or so into the skin, a thing to remember if a few treatments seem to have little effect.

First the pores must be opened still more and the muscles relaxed. This is done either by steaming the face five minutes or holding cloths wrung from hot water for an equal time over the skin. Then, either soap or a regular blackhead cleansing powder should be rubbed into the skin. I suggest: Corn starch, two ounces; powdered borax, one ounce; almond meal, one ounce. Even plain corn starch will do, though this combination is so much better that it is worth while making up.

Wet the fingers, dip into the powder, rub well over the skin. Rub in more, and still more. Then wash out with hot water, then rinse with lukewarm water, and finally with water as cold as you can get it. This is drying; it is meant to be so, for the powder gets into the pores, works itself into that waxy mixture and when washed out, takes the blackhead too. Meantime, the under part, if the blackhead goes deep, will be pushed up to the surface to be removed a few days later. If your diet isn't correct, you'll go on making new blackheads, so diet and exercise must be thought of, too, and the eliminative functions of the body must be in proper working order as well.

Constant Reader:—On the days when you are troubled with excess perspiration on your face, wipe off the skin occasionally with a small piece of absorbent cotton that is dampened with witch hazel or with a good toilette water. After drying the skin use a little rice powder.

A. E. M.:—Very young girls give themselves often to be over developed when it only means that they have not as yet attained their complete growth. At 18 years of age, height five feet four inches, weight 120 pounds, your proportions must be unusually good.

Bessie L.:—I will be glad to mail you complete information regarding the head if you send a stamped self-addressed envelope for forwarding.

Misery:—For a person who is not elderly to have enlarged veins in the hands shows there must be faulty circulation. You can overcome this difficulty by massaging the hands and lower arms. Begin at the fingers using a rotary motion and continue to the elbows, and knead the muscles over palm and back of hands.

Tomorrow:—A Mouth Exercise

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal answer quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

Miss Anita Jones, of St. Paris, O., has gone to Canton, China, to inaugurate the first public health work in that country. She plans to establish public health schools of instruction for native Chinese girls to fit them to do their part in the health crusade.

Miss Jones was a former health nurse for Madison county at London, O. She is to work under the direction of the general board of the Presbyterian church for foreign missions.

WILL JAPS DROP KIMONO?

Must Japanese women say "Goodbye" to the folds of the easy kimono, with all its associations and its color schemes, and embrace the more utilitarian garments of the west? This question is being widely discussed in the Japanese press and has attracted attention from foreigners, editors and Japanese economists, not to mention the enthusiasts for Occidental clothes and others who contend for the kimono.

The rising generation of Japanese women seem to believe that it is time the curtain was rung down on the kimono on the ground that foreign clothes are more economical, lighter and healthier. They state that the men of Japan exchanged the kimono for western clothes because these made them feel more active and better fit for work, and that the time has come when Japanese women want to feel the same way.

MILLION OF STRAY CHILDREN

A return to a condition of savagery for those remaining, according to the law of the survival of the fittest, is said to be inevitable in certain sections of demoralized Europe unless some practical program can be immediately put into effect for giving parental or institutional supervision to 1-home is lost and love and sacrifice are forgotten. It is very easy to think of things as "mine" instead of "ours." Where there is love everything should be "ours" regardless of who actually paid for them.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a growth on my hair on my upper lip. Would it be advisable to use a hair remover? Would the hair grow back again in time? What would be good? THANK YOU.

It would not be advisable to use a hair remover on your upper lip. The only sure way to get rid of the superfluous growth is by means of the electric needle. If you use any other method the hair will grow back thicker and coarser.

EQUALITY IN DIVORCE

Both Houses of Parliament have passed a bill whereby the grounds for divorce in Great Britain will be equal, regardless of sex. Formerly a man wishing a divorce merely had to prove adultery, while a woman the additional charges of cruelty and desertion. Now infidelity is sufficient in either case.

Villa's Slayer Claims Sole Credit for Plot

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, Oct. 18.—Jesus Salas Barraza, self-confessed slayer of the rebel leader, Pancho Villa, is jealous of anyone who might claim a share in the murder plot.

From his prison cell here he sent a telegram to the chamber of deputies, protesting the statement of Deputy Elias Calles, presidential candidate, directed the assassination.

Barraza said that he and a few associates alone slew Villa to rid the Mexican people of a "monstrous murderer."

Banker Returns Fire of Of Bandits, Wounded

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Zelleck J. Varney, president of the First National bank of South Glens Falls, was shot in the right leg when three bandits entered the bank late yesterday and demanded he turn over the cash in the bank.

With a revolver levelled at him through the bars of the cashier's window, Varney ran toward the rear of the banking room. One of the bandits shot him.

Varney picked up a rifle and fired twice. The bandits fled in an automobile without any of the bank's cash.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and sluggish. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve the bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach aches, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the lithia-water drink, lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

Governor Unable to Attend Conference

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 18.—Governor Richardson has wired President Coolidge stating he would be unable to attend the conference of Governors called by the president to consider enforcement of the prohibition, immigration and narcotic laws, but setting forth that "I want to assure you of my hearty co-operation in any movement to enforce the constitution and regret my inability to be with you."

In explaining his inability to attend the conference, Governor Richardson said: "It is impossible for me to attend the governors' conference you have called in Washington for the twentieth instant owing to the serious illness of my son and daughter and to the fact that I am recovering from a minor illness and am hardly well enough, my physician advising against any undue exertions."

Every woman who has a limited pocketbook (and that classification covers most of us) knows what it is to want the new little "wrinkles" in house furnishings which she ought not to afford—those up-to-date accessories which are not absolutely necessary, yet which would complete the decorative effect of the various rooms in her home.

It is a good plan, however, to make a list of "things we want some day," so that when the opportunity to get them arrives we will know exactly what we want. Here are some of the things that should be listed:

The New Door Stops—In grandmother's day a brick was sewed up in a piece of carpet and used to hold a door open in a draught. But today we demand beauty in our homes, even down to such details as door-stops. We can now buy (in art shops and gift shops) these stops made of heavy cement ware, iron, brass or even bronze, in the shape of animals, small houses, and other designs.

Telephone Shields—Twenty-five years ago a telephone was considered such a splendid possession that folks did not care to cover it up! But today we see it as a useful but not beautiful object, and therefore most housewives want one of the new shields for desk phones that are being sold everywhere. I have seen them made of pierced brass, bronze and iron (one was in the shape of a globe with a map of the world on it, the other half of the globe swung open, on hinges, to allow the desk phone to enter). Then there are the less expensive 'phone shields which consist of a wire frame covered with silk. And for bedrooms and upper hallways there are those delightful French doll shields with wired hoopskirts which are set right over the telephone.

Flower Bells with Stem Holders—These have never lost popularity since their introduction several years ago. Few people now realize that a bowl for short-stemmed cut flowers is not complete unless equipped with the small separate piece, pierced with holes in which the flower stems

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: A young couple are engaged to be married as soon as their plans can be worked out. The young man, coming from a family with poor financial management, has about five hundred dollars. The girl insists on much more than this to be married, in spite of the fact that she has about five times as much saved for herself. She doesn't let him know about this, thinking that it would not help him to work out his problems.

Should she allow him to have her money after marriage, or does a girl keep her money for some future emergency? If so, how does she explain this to the man?

If a girl inherits money after marriage from her family, how does she handle it in respect to her husband's rights and the happiness of both?

In the first case the girl has made a proposition to help the man by laying aside an equal amount to his each month to be used jointly to build a home. The girl loses out here in law because are stuck to hold them upright. Sometimes such a bowl has a wire rack set in it, for the flower stems to go through, for the same purpose.

Book Ends—What living room table is complete without book ends nowadays? The most attractive kind are made of brass or bronze with a bas-relief of some famous author or statesman, or designed with a replica of a well-known piece of sculpture.

Governor Unable to Attend Conference

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 18.—Governor Richardson has wired President Coolidge stating he would be unable to attend the conference of Governors called by the president to consider enforcement of the prohibition, immigration and narcotic laws, but setting forth that "I want to assure you of my hearty co-operation in any movement to enforce the constitution and regret my inability to be with you."

In explaining his inability to attend the conference, Governor Richardson said: "It is impossible for me to attend the governors' conference you have called in Washington for the twentieth instant owing to the serious illness of my son and daughter and to the fact that I am recovering from a minor illness and am hardly well enough, my physician advising against any undue exertions."

Banker Returns Fire of Of Bandits, Wounded

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Zelleck J. Varney, president of the First National bank of South Glens Falls, was shot in the right leg when three bandits entered the bank late yesterday and demanded he turn over the cash in the bank.

With a revolver levelled at him through the bars of the cashier's window, Varney ran toward the rear of the banking room. One of the bandits shot him.

Varney picked up a rifle and fired twice. The bandits fled in an automobile without any of the bank's cash.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and sluggish. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve the bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach aches, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the lithia-water drink, lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

Major World Problems Form Speaker's Theme

Dr. Bromley Oxnam, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of All Nations, spoke before the Occidental students yesterday morning at the regular weekly assembly. He chose for his subject "The Three Major Problems Facing the World Today."

Dr. Oxnam is one of the best-known speakers on industrial and economic affairs in Southern California. He has traveled extensively, and was a member of a commission studying European affairs directly after the close of the great World war. He has studied the economic and industrial side of the Orient, and his work among the peoples of all nations, in his church, has brought him recognition as one of the leading men in relief work in this country.

The three great problems today, Dr. Oxnam says, are: "International, Industrial and Racial." He briefly outlined each problem and told how the students of today can save the world from another great war of nations.

BURBANK

FAWKES WILL BE BARBECUE HOST

Plans Celebration of 37th
Anniversary Purchase
Burbank Ranch

On November 15, J. W. Fawkes of 40 West Olive avenue will celebrate the thirty-seventh anniversary of his purchase of that great tract along the Espee now known as the Fawkes industrial area.

At the same time, Burbank will unite in an industrial holiday on the tract, with city officials, luncheon clubs, women's clubs and other civic and business organizations co-operating in a large-scale demonstration.

H. F. J. Lake, president of the GMC Grease Company, states he is in favor of a barbecue. Officials of the railroad promise a special car on the scene. Burbank's municipal band will be on the job. And in the evening the day and night of November 15 will be made one long to remember in this community, if present plans carry.

Choral Club Program

Opening their fall season Tuesday night at the Burbank High school with a splendid program, the Choral Club still further entrenched themselves in the esteem of the scores who attended.

President R. A. Powell of the club will be congratulated on the high grade of musical fare offered. That it was well received shows Burbank knows and appreciates good music.

Sol Cohen, who rendered several violin selections, is one of the best violinists in the Los Angeles district. His accompanist, Mina Hellekson, was faultless in her work. Margaret Messer Morris, soprano, revealed an unusually rich and pleasing voice. She is a singer of generally recognized ability, having toured the country with the great American composer, Charles Wakefield Cadman.

Following is the complete program:

Song of the Brown Thrush..... Risher Margaret Messer Morris and Sol Cohen

Viennese Melody..... Kreisl
Through the Snow..... Burleigh
Spanish Serenade..... Hubar

P.-T. A. Affair Tonight
There will be held tonight, in the study hall of the Burbank High school, at 8 o'clock, an informal reception to the teachers of the city, arranged by the local churches, in conjunction with the Parent-Teacher Association. As it is an affair planned to be of large proportions, with man interesting features prepared by Messrs. Knox, Pendell and Silver, in charge respectively of reception, program and refreshment committees, it is hoped that attendance will measure up to the hopes of those who have given of their time and energies to it.

The affair follows the first fall meeting of the local P.-T. A., held this afternoon at the auditorium of the Burbank school, the outstanding feature of which was an address by Rev. E. A. Main of the Baptist church, on "Duties of Parents and Teachers."

"Howdy!"
This word is being overworked at the Union High school today. The day has been set apart as one on which everyone will say "Howdy" to fellow-students.

"Howdy" day is a semi-annual affair, and was inaugurated as a means of enabling students to become acquainted, and to promote goodwill.

Cards were distributed early in the day, upon which students wrote their names for the information of strangers. Special efforts are being made to help those who enrolled during the last few weeks to get acquainted.

At the Tuesday meeting of the high school student body cabinet, it was voted to hold meetings in the future on Wednesday, due to the fact that some members of the cabinet are on the football team, which practices on Tuesday.

Motorcycles cost from $550 to $850, without side cars, in Hong-kong, and are very popular.

Serious Bladder Trouble
"Could not stand nor sit and was forced to cry out from intense pain," writes Henry Williams, Tarkio, Montana. "The doctors said I had inflammation of the bladder and an operation was necessary. Tried Foley Kidney Pills and improved at once. Tell all my friends about Foley Kidney Pills as it will save many from suffering and perhaps, as in my case, a dangerous operation."

Bladder and kidney trouble demand prompt treatment. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief. Glendale Pharmacy, 638 East Broadway; Hub Pharmacy, Glendale and Colorado; Acacia Pharmacy, 322 South Glendale Avenue.—Advertisement.

EAGLE ROCK

MOVE CHURCH TO BUILD NEW ONE

Mrs. J. B. Squire Tells Plans
To St. Barnabas Church
Guild Members

"The St. Barnabas Episcopal church was moved today from its location on the front of the Stanley street lot to the rear, where it will continue to serve in its former capacity until the new structure, planned and worked for by our guild, can be erected."

Reporting the above at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the St. Barnabas Women's Guild, held with Mrs. A. S. Genn, 5244 North Royal drive, Mrs. J. B. Squire, president of the organization, sounded the consummation of the first part of a big dream by the women of this church.

The second part of the dream will be consummated with the completion of the new structure, work on which is to start immediately. Should present plans carry, Easter services in 1924 will be held in the new church.

When that time comes, the building now occupying the rear of the lot will become exclusive headquarters for the various Sunday school classes of the St. Barnabas Episcopal church, states Mrs. Squire.

Other forthcoming plans of the Women's Guild include a cooked food sale Thursday, October 25, at Kilby's dry goods store on South Central avenue; and a chicken dinner at the December 14, in the nature of an advance Christmas party.

Local and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McClelland and daughter Eileen of 210 North Santa ana avenue have returned from a two weeks' motor trip in the north, during which time they visited in San Francisco and stopped over at San Jose, Monterey, Pacific Grove and other points.

C. E. Kember of 211 West Colorado boulevard has sold his Eagle Rock home and business and removed to Alhambra, where he has business interests.

C. E. Palmanteer of 740 East Colorado boulevard, shot a five point buck on his recent hunting trip to Pine Flats. He was accompanied by Mrs. Palmanteer. Their vacation lasted three weeks and included much fishing as well as hunting.

Mrs. Teresa Keesey of Paloma avenue who represented the red cross of England at the "Wayfarer" pageant in the Los Angeles coliseum, September 8 to 22, and also designed the beautiful costumes for the "British column," of which she was a part, has been honored in verse by Annie B. Broadhead, of Pasadena, member of the Primrose lodge, No. 235, Order of St. George, of which Mrs. Keesey was captain in the pageant parade.

The poem ends:
"Wayfarer" was a grand success, the "British column" breezy.
Will never be forgotten, nor our captain—Teresa Keesey."

Program Announced

The following program of meetings has been approved by the executive board of the World Service society of the Eagle Rock Congregational church:

Rush Plans to Build $3,500,000 Subway

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Confident that the state railroad commission will grant permission for construction of its proposed huge subway Pacific Electric railway officials are proceeding with plans for expenditure of $3,500,000. The city already has approved the franchise. Running time between the city and San Fernando valley and Hollywood points will be reduced twenty minutes, it is claimed.

Hurling of Glove Taken As Challenge

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Oct. 18.—When Arthur Tomlinson, a resident of Gateway, near here, removed the glove from his right hand and threw it to the ground, Robert E. Adams interpreted the act as a challenge to mortal combat, Adams told a coroner's jury here. This action, he said, was recognized as an invitation to battle in the pioneer days of the west.

Have Rivers for Power

"Picture a country where giant rivers flow down to the sea unchecked, where vast lakes hide up in the mountains untouched. Why, the hands of an American electrical wizard could transform those rivers and lakes into millions of horsepower of the cheap electrical power on the globe.

"The titles to land are good in Mexico. They have no American escrow system, but all property is compelled by law to pass through the hands of a notary. These notaries are obliged to give bond and consequently are reliable.

Friendly Toward U. S.

"Mexico, moreover, is friendly toward the United States. She realizes she can do nothing without capital and initiative. She lacks both. We have both. And she knows and we know that we are her next door neighbor and logical helper.

"Mexico has many fine cities. We here have little idea of the development of that country. We either think it is a desert or another Russia. It is neither. The country appears to be well established under the Obregon government.

Guests of Obregon
"We had the pleasure of being entertained several times by President Obregon. He is a strong man, with the situation well in hand. Recognition by the United States has removed the last possibility of another revolution. The road toward a greater Mexico lies straight ahead—up into the United States."

Mr. Ferry was one of those business men from Southern California who recently made the trip to Mexico City and return under the auspices of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The trip included stops at Juarez, Chihuahua, Guadalupe and other points, in addition to Mexico City, and consumed two weeks.

Mrs. Ballagh Arranged Program at Tujunga

Mrs. Lillian Ballagh of 308 North Louise street, member of the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale, and founder of the Matinee Musical club of Los Angeles, arranged the program given yesterday afternoon at the Tujunga school under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher association as a benefit for the relief work being done in Japan.

Special guests at the affair were Professor and Mrs. K. Kishi of Los Angeles. Professor Kishi is Japanese consul.

Assisting in the program were Kinko Goh, young Japanese girl, her father and a group of friends, who presented classical Japanese dances. This group of artists appeared before the Tuesday Afternoon club in Glendale at the first meeting this year.

Mrs. Ballagh and those taking part in the program were highly complimented and the response to the pleas for aiding the Japanese sufferers was most hearty.

College Women's Club Directors Donate $10

Joining with other organizations of Glendale in contributing to the relief fund for the mother of Clarence Edwards and the widows and children of J. W. McGahan, who died in Saturday's fire, the directors of the Glendale College Women's club meeting yesterday at the Egyptian Village, pledged $10 as the gift from the club.

Business affairs pertaining to the administration of the club were considered, and plans discussed for the next meeting, to be "Pomona College Day" and held on the first Saturday afternoon in November.

It will be in the nature of a tea, from 3 till 5 o'clock and the club members and guests will be received in the palm and tea rooms at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. The Pomona College alumnae of the club will be hostesses.
